Mikoyan Flies To Havana

HAVANA (AP)—Soviet trouble-shooter Anastas I. Mikoyan flew to Havana on Friday to soothe ruffled Prime Minister Fidel Castro amid the dismantling and withdrawal of Soviet rockets from Cuba soil.

The Soviet first deputy premier arrived at Havana Airport from New York at 6:01 p.m. aboard a Soviet Aeroflot airliner. He was greeted by Castro and other top Cuban officials.

Agrees With Castro

Before leaving New York, Mikoyan, en route from Moscow, endorsed Castro's demand that the United States evacuate its Guantanamo naval base in Cuba as a condition for a Cuban settlement. Havana radio broadcast Mikoyan's New York statement.

Adenauer's Government In Jeopardy

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's delicately balanced coalition government teetered Friday night because of a dispute over a government order to arrest top officials of the popular magazine Der Spiegel.

Justice Minister Wolfgang Stammberger refused to withdraw his resignation and his conservative Free Democratic party threatened to end its partnership with Adenauer's Christian Democrats.

Four other Free Democrats in Adenauer's cabinet threatened to follow in Stammberger's footsteps. The justice minister submitted his resignation Wednesday, charging he had been bypassed by government officials who ordered the arrest of Der Spiegel's publisher and three editors on suspicion of high treason for allegedly printing military secrets.

He also charged Snyder with maliciously delivering a "false and libelous statement" for publication in The Daily Record.

The charges are based on a statement by Snyder published in yesterday's issue of this newspaper in which the GOP candidate said that Yetter illegally padded his expense account during the 1960 session of the Legislature, collecting $524 to which he was not entitled.

Snyder's charge was made at a meeting of Monroe County's Young Republican Club. The charge was denied yesterday in a telegram from Joseph Ominsky, chief clerk of the State House of Representatives, who said Yetter's mileage for the session was "checked and approved."

Pleads Innocent
Snyder was arrested by Constable George Metzgar. At a hearing before Chester R. Staples, East Stroudsburg justice of the peace, Snyder pleaded innocent and was released in a total of $1,500 bail — $500 on the libel count and $1,000 for furnishing the information to a newspaper.

for a further hearing at 6 p.m. Monday.

In a statement issued in connection with filing of the libel action by Mervine, Brown and Newman, Stroudsburg law firm, Yetter said:

"I am seeking reelection as your representative based on a record of achievements that have benefited Monroe County and its citizens.

"My campaign has been an effort to bring forth the honest and complete facts of my accomplishments as your representative.

"I have been subject to tactics in this campaign that I have never experienced during my political career. No candidate, Democratic or Republican, should be subjected to the untruths and character assassination hurled by my opponent. My opponent has stooped to a new low in a cheap and tawdry attempt to secure votes.

"As your representative and as a private citizen I feel a strong sense of moral responsibility to the citizens of Monroe County, Democratic or Republican, who at any future time may seek office, to protect them from irresponsible acts of malicious opponents. Therefore, under the advice of counsel I was forced to have Mr. Gerald Snyder arrested on charges of criminal libel."

However, it was believed Mikoyan would seek in Havana to persuade Castro to drop his opposition to international verification of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's promise to dismantle Soviet missiles in Cuba and ship them back to the Soviet Union.

President Kennedy told the American people Friday night that the Russians appeared to be keeping their promise.

Kennedy said in a radio-television address from the White House that the missiles and the rocket bases are being dismantled, and progress is now being made towards the restoration of peace in the Caribbean.

The President appeared on radio and television, after little more than an hour's advance notice, with a brief progress report on settlement of the crisis that a week ago had the world teetering on the brink of nuclear war.

He said it is "our firm hope and purpose" that the progress he said is being made will continue.

Kennedy's Decision
Kennedy's decision to deliver a personal report to the nation came after the Defense Department had given out essentially the same information.

His announcement, running slightly under two minutes, was carried by all major radio and television networks. The President spoke from a reception room across the hall from his office in the executive wing of the White House.

He said: "My fellow citizens: I want to take this opportunity to report on the conclusions which this government has reached on the basis of yesterday's aerial photographs which will be made available tomorrow, as well as other indications, namely, that the Soviet missile bases in Cuba are being dismantled, their missiles and related equipment are being crated, and the fixed installations at these sites are being destroyed."

"The United States intends to follow closely the completion of this work through a variety of means, including aerial surveillance, until such time as an equally satisfactory international means of verification is effected."

"The continuation of these measures in air and sea, until the threat to peace posed by these offensive weapons is gone, is in keeping with our pledge to secure their withdrawal or elimination from this hemisphere. It is in keeping with the resolution of the Organization of American States, and it is in keeping with the exchange of letters with Chairman Khrushchev of Oct. 27th and 28th."

"Progress is now being made towards the restoration of peace in the Caribbean, and it is our firm hope and purpose that this progress shall go forward. We will continue to keep the American people informed on this vital matter."

"Thank you."

The proposal that the International Red Cross be asked to play a role in verifying removal of the missile bases was advanced by the Soviet Union.

Cuban R-Missile Bases Being Torn Down; Hopes For Peace

The proposal that the International Red Cross be asked to play a role in verifying removal of the missile bases was advanced by the Soviet Union.

The details of how this would be done would have to be worked out.

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro refused in a broadcast Thursday night to permit any kind of U.N. inspection or verification on Cuban territory.

The Defense Department's earlier announcement that aerial reconnaissance photos showed work on dismantling the missile bases had started was even briefer than the President's.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said in a one-sentence statement that preliminary analysis of aerial photographs taken Thursday "provide clear indications that work is proceeding on dismantling of the missiles."

At the same time a State Department spokesman said negotiations on the matter are well under way with the Soviet Union and the United Nations.

McNamara's announcement was amplified to some extent by a Defense Department official who gave newsmen these additional details:

Launches Removed
The pictures show that missile launcher erectors spotted in previous films have been removed from the rocket sites.

Cable conduits between control points and launching pads have been broken up and much of the associated launch equipment removed.

The concrete pads for the launch erectors appear to have been broken up with air hammering.

Certain areas of the missile sites have been plowed and bulldozed.

At the State Department press office Lincoln White declined to answer questions about the status of negotiations for withdrawal of Soviet weapons from Cuba, except to say that "negotiations are well under way between the United States, the U.S.S.R., and the United Nations, to put into effect the commitments that we and the U.S.S.R. have agreed to."

In an exchange between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev last weekend, Kennedy said he understood Khrushchev agreed to "remove these weapons systems from Cuba under appropriate U.N. observation and supervision."

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro rejected U.N. inspection a renewed his demand for U.S. withdrawal from its Guantanamo naval base and other concessions.

Some confusion was injected into the picture when Anastas I. Mikoyan, first deputy Soviet premier, said on his departure from New York for Havana Friday that the Soviet Union is supporting Castro's proposals as "just."

Maps Search Goes On
HEADQUARTERS of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D. C., said last night it is pressing its search for Edward Howard Maps, 40-year-old Stroudsburg artist-sculptor, missing since last January.

Maps is accused of murdering his wife, Christine, 22, and the couple's four-month-old daughter, Julie Louise. He is on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted fugitives.

Asked about reports that it had requested help from Mexican authorities in tracking down Maps, a spokesman for the FBI said there was no more reason to believe that the fugitive was in Mexico than in Canada.

He said Maps had been reported traveling across U. S. borders several times in the eight months since he disappeared from his home at 510 Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

Area radio stations and newspapers who subscribe to a wire service other than The Associated Press had circulated reports that Maps was being sought in Mexico.

The wire service quoted unidentified "authorities" as the basis for its statement that Mexican authorities had been asked to assist in the search for Maps.

Scott charged "too long he (Walter) passed as a staunch conservative and voted with the left wing."

The Pennsylvania Republican told the 500 assembled that "Walter does not cooperate with the people of the district, members of Congress, or give the people facts."

Scott took credit for the $6½ million contract which went to Bethlehem Steel. He said, "I negotiated the contract with the Pakistan Government. Walter had nothing to do with it."

Scott also charged that the 15th Congressional District is "the only district in Pennsylvania which has so many postmaster appointments up in the air."

Policy On Politics
IN ORDER to allow an "air-clearing" period prior to the General Election on Tuesday, The Daily Record will carry no controversial political statements on the local level in its news columns on Monday.

This policy has been set, and will be followed in the future, so that no candidate can get in a last-minute statement that his opponent will not have an opportunity to answer.

The policy has been set with the idea of fairness to all candidates, and has the sponsorship of party leaders.

And—May the best candidates win!

Angler Drowns At Peck's
HOWARD BILLIG, 71, of Lynton, drowned yesterday while fishing at Peck's Pond.

He and his daughter, Mrs. Mildred E. Grammes, Tréxlertown, were in a boat on the pond when Billig got a bite.

Mrs. Grammes told State Police from Milford that when her father stood up the boat capsized and both were thrown into the water.

She held onto the boat until she was rescued by Howard E. Rothert, Lehighton, who took her to shore and then proceeded to search for her father.

Unable to locate Billig, they went for help and found Pennsylvania Department of Highways workers nearby, who aided in recovering the body.

James Crellin, Pike County coroner, said that death was due to accidental drowning at 3:20 p.m. The body was released to the Stroyan-Crellin funeral home, Milford. Trooper Nicholas Arch investigated the accident.

Americans Arrive
Four American officers have arrived to bolster the U.S. Embassy military attaché's office in handling India's arms appeals.

Nehru, who dumped Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon as defense minister, appointed Rear Adm. D. Shankar to handle foreign arms procurement.

Galbraith said the United States is considering supplying the emergency arms shipments on a long loan basis but that the terms have not been worked out.

The American effort to aid an Indian government, often critical in the past of U.S. foreign policy, was launched without fanfare.

Ten C135s, the military counterpart of the Boeing 707 airliner, were assigned to the 13-hour flights from Frankfurt to Calcutta, with a refueling stop at Adana, Turkey. Relief crews were rushed ahead to Calcutta to bring the transports back for reloading to keep the airlift rolling "round-the-clock."

U.S. sea shipments of heavier equipment will follow.

U.S. Arming Indian Army
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—U.S. Air Force transports sped halfway 'round the world Friday with weapons to help India fight of Chinese Communist invaders.

With the launching of the American arms airlift, U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith pointedly told Prime Minister Nehru's government "the great task remains with the Indian army."

Indian forces along the Himalayan frontier were digging in and checked—at least temporarily—the Chinese drive. But the Communists appeared massing to resume their offensive.

An Indian defense ministry spokesman reported the front quiet for 24 hours, with the only shooting "some exchange of fire in the vicinity of Walong, 15 miles west of the Burma border."

The other major Communist stab into northeastern India near the captured monastery town of Tawang stalled as Indian troops prepared a defense line behind the fallen outposts.

The United States made it crystal clear the military aid being rushed to India is confined to arms; no men.

Defenses Neglected
Galbraith cautioned the Indians, whose defenses were neglected in pursuance of a passive, neutralist policy, against expecting American weapons alone to "work magic." Speaking to newsmen, he added:

"We are happy to help with equipment to stop aggression but equipment is only part of the problem."

The first U.S. Air Force C135 jet transport took off from Frankfurt, Germany, under security precautions, with photographers barred from taking pictures of the loading. An announcement in Washington, however, said initial aid would include light infantry weapons, artillery and communications and transportation equipment.

F. M. Flynn, president and publisher of The News, announced: "The New York News has been forced to suspend publication due to the strike called by the Newspaper Guild of New York at midnight, Oct. 31."

The suspension meant the lay-off of about 4,000 nonstriking News employees.

The announcement by Flynn came after a day in which joint peace talks with the Guild got nowhere.

The face-to-face negotiations were the first since 1,100 Guild editorial and commercial employees struck the News.

The News put out a bottled-up 16-page Friday morning edition on the presses of the afternoon.

Ten C135s, the military counterpart of the Boeing 707 airliner, were assigned to the 13-hour flights from Frankfurt to Calcutta, with a refueling stop at Adana, Turkey. Relief crews were rushed ahead to Calcutta to bring the transports back for reloading to keep the airlift rolling "round-the-clock."

U.S. sea shipments of heavier equipment will follow.

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union were reported near agreement Friday night on a plan to permit the International Red Cross to inspect Cuba-bound Soviet ships.

The Red Cross itself still has not consented to assume the role, but is sending a representative to New York for discussion with Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant this weekend.

The move, if approved, is intended to open a way for the United States to lift its naval arms quarantine set up to prevent arms shipments to Cuba.

In his broadcast, to the nation late Friday, President Kennedy said the Red Cross would be an appropriate agency for this task.

Under the proposed plan, informed quarters said, the inspectors would be stationed on a ship or ships chartered by the Red Cross or the United Nations.

This and other developments gave rise to expressions of optimism here that the crisis with Cuba involving the United States and the Soviet Union would be resolved.

A U.N. spokesman said Thant had been informing diplomats that he is trying to arrange the ship inspection plan with the Red Cross.

He said it is the secretary-general's understanding that it will be about 10 days before Soviet ships will be able to pick up the dismantled missiles for the return trip to the Soviet Union. The vessels will have to be sent from Soviet ports for this purpose.

The United States also had considered a possible Red Cross role in checking Soviet ships bound out of Cuba to verify missile removals, but this idea apparently has been dropped.

The situation was complicated by refusal of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to accept any kind of U.N. inspection, or even inspection by the Red Cross on Cuban territory.

The United States says it is still insisting upon international inspection to verify removal of offensive arms. This would seem to require on-the-scene inspection, since there is no other way of obtaining definite proof that all offensive arms have been removed.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson contributed to the optimism by telling reporters that the United States is making progress in the negotiations with the Soviet Union to resolve the crisis.

Aerial Photos
Much of the optimism was based on the report that the International Red Cross might offer a way out of the difficulty over inspection, as well as word from Washington that aerial photos showed that the Soviet missile bases were being dismantled.

Informed sources gave these additional details on issues involved in the inspection proposal involving the Red Cross:

If the United States accepted the Soviet plan for Red Cross inspection of Soviet vessels bound for Cuba, the Red Cross could charter a ship or ships for this purpose, either directly or through the United Nations.

The big Navy base here was deserted with almost all the ships at sea. The submarine station, which normally relays information to Navy families and residents on sub movements via telephone was playing a recorded voice that repeated, to callers: "We are sorry to report that no information on submarine movements is being given at this time."

Asked about reports that it had requested help from Mexican authorities in tracking down Maps, a spokesman for the FBI said there was no more reason to believe that the fugitive was in Mexico than in Canada.

He said Maps had been reported traveling across U. S. borders several times in the eight months since he disappeared from his home at 510 Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

Area radio stations and newspapers who subscribe to a wire service other than The Associated Press had circulated reports that Maps was being sought in Mexico.

The wire service quoted unidentified "authorities" as the basis for its statement that Mexican authorities had been asked to assist in the search for Maps.

While the quarantine remains in effect, we are hopeful that adequate procedures can be developed for international inspection of Cuba-bound cargoes. The International Committee of the Red Cross, in our view, would be an appropriate agent in this matter.

"The continuation of these measures in air and sea, until the threat to peace posed by these offensive weapons is gone, is in keeping with our pledge to secure their withdrawal or elimination from this hemisphere. It is in keeping with the resolution of the Organization of American States, and it is in keeping with the exchange of letters with Chairman Khrushchev of Oct. 27th and 28th."

"Progress is now being made towards the restoration of peace in the Caribbean, and it is our firm hope and purpose that this progress shall go forward. We will continue to keep the American people informed on this vital matter."

"Thank you."

The Bible

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Psalms 19:7-11; 119:33-40; Acts 8:26-38; II Timothy 3:14-17; II Peter 1:16-21.

Not long after Christ's death, the Lord's angel directed Philip to a desert in southern Palestine; there he found an influential Ethiopian official reading the prophet Isaiah as he rode in his chariot. Philip joined him and studied with him.—Acts 8:26-35.

The Bible itself tells us that its study will revive the soul, make the simple wise, rejoice the heart and enlighten the eyes. God's laws will endure forever, and we must pray for understanding and strength to follow them.—Psalms 19:7-11; 119:33-40.

Peter affirms the divine origin of the Scriptures by recalling the experience of Christ's transfiguration, which he witnessed with James and John. They themselves heard God's voice then, which confirmed the prophecies of the Old Testament.—II Peter 1:16-21.

The power of the Word of God was such that the Ethiopian was immediately converted. As they passed by some water, he stopped his chariot and asked Philip to baptize him.—Acts 8:36. GOLDEN TEXT: Psalm 119:33.

Today's Lesson:

The Bible

By N. SPEER JONES

THE BIBLE, in addition to teaching us the important things about God and His world, informs us about the Scriptures themselves. The basic belief involved here is whether or not God has spoken to man, and if so, in what way.

God's revelation of Himself to man is the subject of Psalm 19. This revelation is dual. The first part of the psalm deals with His revelation through nature — the wondrous world in which we live. The second part, beginning with the assigned verse seven, deals with His revelation of Himself through His Word.

What is this Word? The key is "law," the first thing mentioned in this section. To the writer of the psalm, this meant God's moral law, embodied chiefly in the first five books of the Bible. It did not mean, as A. F. Kirkpatrick points out (in "Pel-ouet's Select Notes," p. 411), a "burdensome and vexatious restriction of liberty," but "a gracious reflection of the holiness of God, designed to lead man in the way of life and peace."

At the same time, the psalm hints, this law is also "an instrument for teaching man to know his own sinfulness... and to feel the need of an effectual atonement."

This law, or Biblical teaching — if obeyed — can revive one's soul, make a foolish man wise, make his heart rejoice and his vision be enlightened; it will endure forever (Psalm 19:7-11).

In Psalm 119, the Word of God tells us how we may achieve obedience to God's law; we pray for His help. We cannot do it alone.

The brief passage from Paul's second letter to Timothy is rich in information about God's Word. All Scripture, he says, is "inspired of God" — that is, breathed by God Himself. Peter bears this out in the 21st verse of his second letter. All the prophets spoke, he says, not from themselves, but as God's Holy Spirit moved them. This is the divine origin of the Scriptures.

Paul also exhorts us to cling to these Scriptures, not merely as a point of view, but with our whole beings — "Abide thou in" the Scriptures, he urges. Not only are they sacred, but in them lies the road to the wisdom which can save us, through faith.

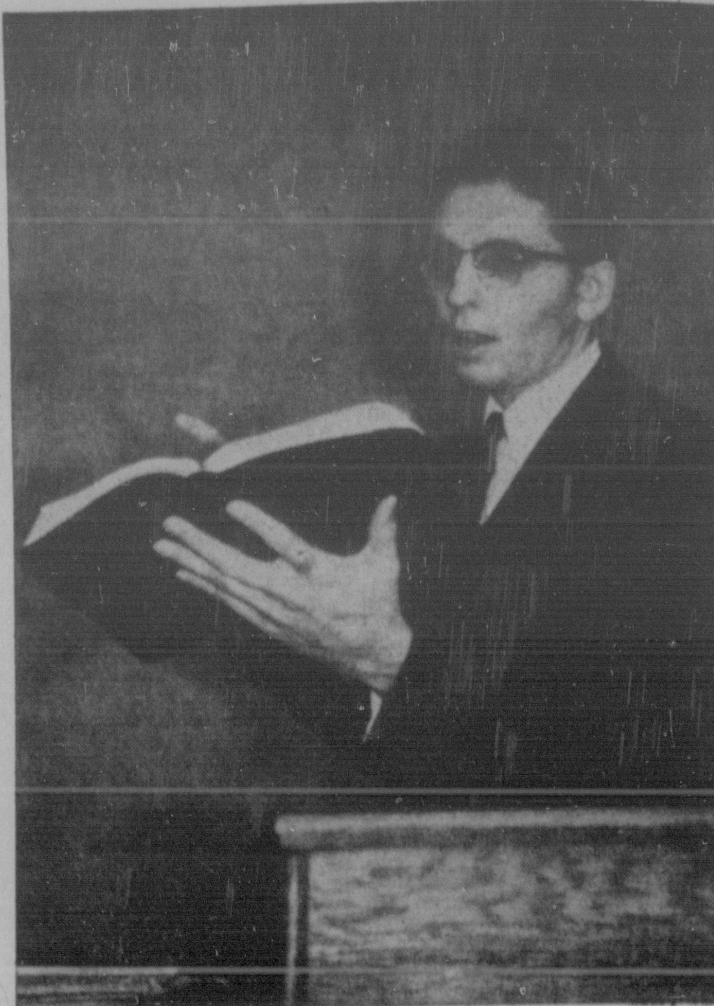

More mundanely, Paul lists a fourfold profitability in the Bible — for teaching, for reproof, for correction and for instruction in righteousness.

Peter reminds that he and other apostles did not report merely beliefs or fantasies, but substantiate the Word of God as actual witnesses to the transfiguration of Christ.

The power of the Word of God is pointed up in an actual example in the passage from Acts. Philip taught the eunuch about Christ simply by reading with him the 53rd chapter of Isaiah. The Word of God here was sufficiently eloquent to prompt this pagan, foreign stranger to ask Philip to baptize him on the spot.

ELECTION time — get out and vote. You have a great privilege and responsibility to register your "Aye" or "Nay" in affairs of American government. It always comes as a shock to find out how many people haven't voted in years and, furthermore, do not intend to cast their ballot for any one or any thing. Why?

Perhaps one reason may be that the political campaigns are run in such poor taste complete with "name calling" and research with a vacuum cleaner to pick up any dirt that may be used to smear the other fellow.

The men, no doubt, are very good fellows and all year long will do anything to help their neighbor. Yet, come election time, and a great change comes over their personalities. Under the spell of vote getting it is amazing to observe to what depths some will go, under the guise of "Party" or the cause.

Someday perhaps we will hear a candidate say that his oppoent is a fine fellow and would do a very good job for the people too and then sit down.

I will always believe that there are very fine men in politics and that no one party has "the corner on the market." It is a sad, sad thing to hear grown men utter words that can only lower themselves in their own eyes and in the eyes of others. The end result being that the uninformed citizen reaches a state of confusion that is soon overtaken by strong disgust and in despair he throws up his hands and decides not to vote at all. This is not offered as an excuse, but possibly a reason.

We all know right from wrong, and somehow we are always in the right! — at least, that's how we think.

When we are at "grips" with a problem that affects our daily living, too often we are prone to drop our Christian teachings as one discards an old coat, to be put on again after the problem has been solved to our liking (no matter what underhanded methods we had to use).

Christianity is a way of life. It is a guide of golden rules that have to be applied daily to be of help. It is an all or nothing proposition, we are either Christians (and follow ALL the teachings) or we are nothing!

We can all be better. The trouble is that we are not even half trying! The result being that we are like the politicians who cry loud and long their good deeds and at the same time try to rob their rival's good name with every dirty trick they can apply.

Let us elect to practice our Christianity at all times and vote for an all out effort.

Young GOP Back Krawitz In Dispute With Lesoine

MONROE County Young Republicans, in unanimous support of their president, Edwin Krawitz, in his position during the recent discussion with County Commissioner, John Lesoine, stated that the entire attitude and actions of Lesoine were repulsive and singularly partisan in nature.

Ray Roberts, vice president and spokesman for the young GOP organization said, "Lesoine displayed utterly poor judgment in his handling of a legitimate request for clarification and protection of the voter's rights."

"He is playing 'politics' with something very sacred — the vote of a citizen! We cannot accept any evasive 'smoke-screens' on his part when questioned by people of character and reputation such as Mrs. Kay Tarr and Krawitz as to the methods used in the Commissioner's office to protect the citizens of our county."

"In the manner in which he questioned the honesty of the two people involved and the aggressive attitude he displayed in interviewing Krawitz, he himself established the level of language and discussion. He alone must bear the blame for this."

"The fact that he at no time answered the basic question, 'what assurance does the applicant have that his application for an absentee ballot will be handled in a fair and just way?', is not to be buried under the issue of countercharges. We, and we are certain the public, cannot accept his 'that's politics' type of answer. If the answer that is just and fair escapes him or he chooses not to speak, then voters will have an opportunity to demonstrate their faith in him as a Commissioner."

"The 107-year-old document transferred a property in Eldred Township from Joseph and Mary Frable, Eldred Township, to Charles Christman, also of Eldred Township."

It is a printed form with the description of the property and the names of the persons concerned in the transaction filled in by hand. The date is April 28, 1855, and the consideration was $396.

The 88-year-old deed transferred a property in Eldred Township from John J. and Eliza Fawcett, Eldred Township, to Reuben Christman, same address.

Entirely written in hand, it is dated April 1, 1874. The consideration was $300.

Other deeds filed yesterday: Stillwater Lake Estates, Inc., Pocono Summit, to Eugene R. and Maryann Wyatt, Philadelphia property in Tobyhanna Township; Stillwater Lake Estates to John and Andrew Glovatsky, Nesquehoning, property in Tobyhanna Township.

Stillwater Lake Estates to William P. K. Himmelmreich, Bridgeport, Pa., property in Coolbaugh Township; Stillwater Lake Estates to George E. Munroe, Cornwell Heights, and Erwin Muller, Philadelphia, property in Tobyhanna Township.

Horace H. and Marie Heller, Stroud Township, to William H. and Barbara J. Tucker, Stroudsburg, property in Stroud Township and Stroudsburg; Franklin A. Jr., and Frances A. Hochriner, Coolbaugh Township, to J. S. Gleason, Jr., Veterans Affairs Administrator, Wilkes-Barre, property in Coolbaugh Township.

Frieda Barth, Irvington, N.J., to Leo R. Reinhardt, Middle Smithfield Township, two properties in Middle Smithfield Township, $28,000; John and Lore Baynor, Stroudsburg, to Leo R. Reinhardt, property in Middle Smithfield Township.

A complete financial statement of Southern Wayne funds, made up by Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, Wallenpaupack secretary, was studied by the group.

Mrs. Paul Strada and Mrs. Nelson Woltjen, representing the Parent Teacher Association, attended the meeting.

Bills amounting to $614.10 were approved for payment by the joint board.

Board members present were H. B. Hutchins, Fred McLain, Bruce Banks, J. Robert Burdick, Harry Schoenagel, Claude Butler, Charles Phillips and Peggy Bancroft.

The Wallenpaupack Area Joint School Board will meet at 9 p.m. on Monday at Hawley.

Chief Clerk Says Charge 'Erroneous'

JOSEPH Ominsky, chief clerk of the State House of Representatives, yesterday denied a charge by Gerald A. Snyder, Republican candidate for Monroe County's seat in the General Assembly, that the incumbent Democrat, Van D. Yetter, Jr., padded his mileage expense vouchers. He emphasized the charge was "erroneous."

In a telegram to Yetter yesterday, following publication of Snyder's charge, Ominsky said a 19-60 questionnaire directed members of the General Assembly to contact their railroad ticket office for correct mileage of the nearest mail route. He said Yetter's mileage was checked and approved.

Ominsky said that, effective June 1, 1961, by resolution, members' mileage was changed to highway mileage, which was computed by the Pennsylvania Dept. of Highways.

Assembly Fight Highlights Tuesday's General Election

MONROE County's voters go to the polls Tuesday to choose their representative in the General Assembly and aid in the election of a state senator, a U. S. representative and a governor.

Both parties are claiming victory in the race for the State House of Representatives, in which Gerald A. Snyder, East Stroudsburg, RD 2, is seeking to defeat the incumbent Democrat, Van D. Yetter, Jr., Marshalls Creek.

Snyder, a 36-year-old school teacher, survived a bitter primary battle to receive the Republican nomination, defeating Clifford F. Heller of Stroudsburg, who had the backing of the Monroe County Republican Committee.

During the closing days of the primary, Snyder brought a criminal libel charge against Parke W. Unangst, then county Republican chairman. A grand jury failed to indict Unangst in the case.

Before and after the primary there have been indications of a bitter split within the county Republican organization, which may prove helpful to the Democrats on Tuesday.

At one time, both Unangst and Hanford L. Cleveland, a former state representative, claimed to be party chairman, resulting from the annual meeting of the county's committeemen and women which turned into two meetings.

At the first, supporters of Cleveland claimed, Unangst railroaded through his renomination.

The supreme court battle is between Earl S. Keim, appointed to the high court by Gov. David L. Lawrence last summer, and Samuel J. Roberts, the Republicans' candidate.

For secretary of internal affairs, the struggle is between the incumbent Democrat, Genevieve Blatt, and Audrey R. Kelly, the Republican nominee.

19,988 Registered

Total registered voters in Monroe County as of Sept. 25, 1962, is 19,988, and from reports received by The Daily Record a large percentage of these voters will appear at the polls on Tuesday.

The Democrats have 11,772 registered voters as compared to 7,941 Republicans. Other parties registration are Non-Partisans, 167; Independents, 107, and Prohibitionist, 1.

These figures compare with 11,450, Democrats; 7,720, Republicans, 135, Non-Partisans; 95, Independents, and 1 Prohibitionist at the closing of registration April 1, 1962.

The club will hold its next meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Heinz' Appoints

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The H. J. Heinz Co., food processors, named Frank T. Sherk as executive vice president for U.S. operations. He succeeds B. Dent Graham who retired. Sherk formerly directed the company's Canadian division.

and election and that of his hand-picked supporters.

At the second meeting, held the same evening, a majority of the committeemen and women cast their votes for Cleveland and his slate.

Since the primary, Snyder has consistently challenged Yetter to a series of debates on the issues of the campaign. Yetter has declined to participate and ignored most of the challenges.

The contest for state senator pits the incumbent, Republican William J. Scott of Lansford, against Carl A. Niehoff of Lehigh, the Democratic nominee.

U. S. Rep. Francis E. Walter, seeking his 16th consecutive term in Washington, is generally conceded to be a heavy favorite over Woodrow A. Horn, like Walter an Easton attorney, who lost to Walter in a similar contest two years ago.

There are three candidates for governor, although it is as sure as anything can be that only two of them will slug it out for the post.

They are Richardson Dilworth, the Democratic former mayor of Philadelphia, and William W. Scranton, U. S. representative from the town which bears his name. The other candidate is George S. Taylor, running on the Socialist Labor ticket.

Also scheduled to be elected are a judge of the state supreme court and a secretary of internal affairs.

The struggle is between the incumbent Democrat, Genevieve Blatt, and Audrey R. Kelly, the Republican nominee.

Yetter Says Snyder Charge 'Willful, Malicious Attack'

REPRESENTATIVE Van D. Yetter, Jr., of Monroe County, Democratic Candidate for reelection to the Pennsylvania State Assembly last night issued a statement in reply to the charges of his opponent, (Gerald Snyder) published in The Daily Record on Friday, November 2, and broadcast over Radio Station WVO on the same day. In the charges Mr. Yetter was accused of charging the State too much mileage while serving in the State Legislature.

Yetter's reply follows: "This is another sorry example of the willful and malicious attacks which have been displayed by my opponent throughout the course of this campaign and indeed back to the Republican Primary. More than that, it is also an example of telling untruths about me in a desperate effort to get votes."

"At that time all mail from East Stroudsburg to Harrisburg went via the Lackawanna Railroad to Newark and there was transferred to the Pennsylvania Railroad and sent to Harrisburg. Pursuant to the instructions in this letter I obtained the mileage from the railroad ticket office in East Stroudsburg and this is the figure which I submitted to the Clerk of the House in exact compliance to what he had asked for."

"I may say also that this procedure of figuring mileage was the same one used for many years under Republican and Democratic Administrations by Republicans and Democrats alike."

"During the 1961 session of the legislature a resolution effective June 1, 1961 was adopted providing that mileage should be computed by highway mileage. I have been computing my mileage in this manner ever since."

Yetter closed, "I say to my opponent: Why don't you tell the truth?"

Now is the time to mark the resting place of someone you hold near and dear with a suitable memorial.

Borrowed Idea

The Soviet Union, believe it or not, has taken a leaf from the capitalist book.

In a new and literally revolutionary development, it has decided that trademarks must be made a part of the Communist economy.

In past times, Communist bosses regarded trademarks much as the Devil regards Holy Water. Inasmuch as the government owned all the factories, they reasoned, it was just necessary to supply a standardized product and let it go at that.

But—human nature being human nature even under the Hammer and Sickle—it was found that factories and entire industrial groups were producing shoddy wares. Lack of identity resulted in lack of incentive and was clearly responsible for lack of quality.

Opinions Of Other Editors

A Helping Hand For Nehru

There is no real alternative for America but to send India the aid it needs in its border war with Red China, no matter what irritations Americans have felt over past pronouncements by Nehru and Krishna Menon.

Despite its occasionally odd brand of neutralism, India remains a Free World example in Southeast Asia that democratic rule can work in that part of the world.

So arrangements now are being completed for arms shipments of the sort necessary for Indian troops to hold back the Red Chinese forces. Such aid not only helps India but it could discourage Mao from pressing further aggression in that part of the world—aggression which might entail a direct confrontation with our own military forces.

If it's true that adversity has its benefits, India's initial setbacks could have some decided advantages, both for India and the West.

Official statements from New Delhi indicate that Indians have been shocked out of their complacency about the peaceful intentions of Red China. Menon, who wears his anti-U. S. sentiments on his sleeve, now is in trouble at home. His past assurances on Communist intentions and his current mishandling of India's defenses have increased demands

So now government firms are being given names, and trademarks are becoming the vogue. Actually, the trademark has been known throughout recorded history as a stamp of identification and an incentive to quality. But there are some in this country who would turn the clock back. It is proposed that trademark names be removed from prescription drugs, on the unproven and untenable theory that this would markedly reduce their cost.

What would happen is that there would be far less incentive to produce prescription drugs of outstanding quality and the physician would no longer be able to prescribe a brand-named drug in which he had confidence. The result? Answering that question is easy—a roadblock would be put in the way of progress and the public health would be endangered.

that he be ousted by Nehru. At the very least, his influence in Indian affairs should be diminished—something the West well can applaud.

There also have been reports that President Kennedy is urging India to come to terms with Pakistan on their Kashmir dispute. This is one conflict that should have been settled a long time ago. The long-simmering dispute now is a drain on Indian forces at the very time India needs every trained soldier it has to oppose the invading Red Chinese. Because of Kashmir, pro-Western Pakistan just has objected to any additional American arms for India. But this protest must be brushed aside in the face of the greater threat to the peace of the area.

It would be a big gain for both Pakistan and India, if the crisis fomented by Red China could bring the two together at last on a Kashmir solution.

Whether or not India retains its policy of neutrality in the future, it cannot help but emerge from this crisis with a more realistic view of world affairs and Communist intentions.

America has a responsibility to help this free country survive by answering its call for aid.

Economic Highlights

What Is Slowing The American Economy?

Question: What Is Slowing the American Economy?
Answer: "The Heavy Hand of Government."

That is the view of President John E. Swearingen of Standard Oil Company (Indiana). He makes his points in a forthright article which originally appeared in The Freeman magazine, and has been reprinted in condensed form in the August issue of The Reader's Digest.

He begins: "Specters haunt American business today: the manifold and proliferating regulatory agencies of the federal government. The all-pervasive powers and activities of these agencies, whose existence was not contemplated by our Constitution, go largely unrealized by the average citizen. Too many are under the misapprehension that this country is still being governed according to the original ground rules. The fact is that those people have lost touch with reality who think that the federal government today is made up essentially of an executive and a legislative branch, with an independent judiciary as arbiter."

After this beginning, Mr. Swearingen goes into the history of the "fourth branch of government"—that is, the independent agencies, of which the first was the Interstate Commerce Commission. It saw the light of day in 1887. Now there are over 60 of these agencies, with some 400,000 employees and annual budget totaling about $10 billion. There is hardly a facet in our economic life which is not controlled, regulated, or influenced in some manner by one or another of them.

A fundamental problem, to quote Mr. Swearingen again, is that "Many of these regulatory agencies exercise unusual powers in that they first promulgate regulations which have the force and effect of law, then enforce them and later adjudicate them."

The commissioners of these agencies are non-elective officials, many of whom, while theoretically responsible to the Congress, are in large measure of fact responsible to no one in particular.

Mr. Swearingen cites, as an example of what can happen, a case concerning his own conditions. In 1940 the Federal Trade Commission complained that company policy in the matter amounted to unfair discrimination. The company went to court and in 1961—11 years later, note—won its case. But that wasn't the end. The FTC brought another action, based on the same pricing policy, and again the litigants went into court. The company won another favorable decision from the Supreme Court—in 1958, after 17 years of costly and trying litigation!

All manner of industries have had to deal with a similar problem. And Mr. Swearingen regards that problem as being of particular gravity at this time, for two reasons. One is the Soviet Union's economic offensive against the West—now the prime cold war weapon—in which no holds are barred, and which demands the maximum energies of American enterprise if it is to be successfully met. The other is the expanding European Common Market, and the increasing competition in international trade it is bringing about.

The danger, as Mr. Swearingen sees it, is "that individual initiative will become swamped by government edict before enough people awake to the threat." He closes his article with words from the late, great John Stuart Mill: "A state which they may be more docile instruments in its hands—even for beneficial purposes—will find that with small men no great thing can really be accomplished."

Inside You And Yours

Dear Doctor ...

Hip Trouble
Dear Doctor: Although I walked perfectly after doctors fixed my broken hip, I can now barely stand. Why?
Mrs. S. M. (Ontario)

Dear Mrs. M.: A poorly healed break can break again. Without circulation the head of the thigh bone (femur) may be crumbling inside its socket. The hip joint may be simply wearing out. A recheck with new X-rays can tell.

If a second operation can't help, rely on hot packs, muscle-strengthening exercises and cane or crutch.

Hardened Arteries
Dear Doctor: What are the symptoms of hardening of the arteries?
Mrs. L. M. (Iowa)

Dear Mrs. M.: Hardening of the arteries causes trouble only when the artery grows too narrow to deliver all the blood needed. Muscles wither and skin thins and darkens.

It can trigger angina (chest pain relieved by rest), scarred heart muscle and possibly a heart attack; also calf muscle pain relieved by rest. It can turn you into a forgetful, confused old codger.

Different arteries cause different trouble.

Books On Diseases
Dear Doctor: Can you recommend any little book about diseases?
Mrs. D. K. (Pa.)

Dear Mrs. K.: Here are a few of the many you can choose from.

(1) The New American Medical Dictionary and Health Manual—a pocketbook—by Robert E. Rothberg, M.D. (Signal, N.Y., 1962).

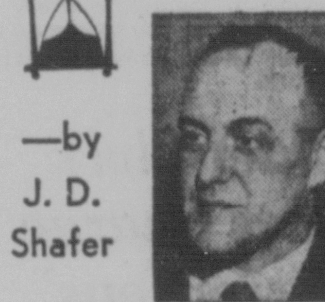

(2) The Complete Medical Guide by Benjamin Miller, M.D. (Simon and Schuster, N.Y., 1956).

(3) And for imaginary ills, Hypochondriac's Kook Book by Herbert Klauber (Metro, Chicago, 1962). But watch out! Its belly laughs can tear your stitches!

Overactive Thyroid
Dear Doctor: Can women with overactive thyroid glands still have children?
Mrs. D. M. (Calif.)

Dear Mrs. M.: Any upset in the delicate balance of hormone chemicals reduces your chances. Both sluggish and overactive thyroid glands slow and stop menstrual flow. But medication and operation can turn overactive glands back to normal.

A lass from County Cork emigrated to Boston and married a man who was a longtime fugitive from Alcoholics Anonymous. She wrote home to tell about her husband's drinking habits but her parents could make neither head nor tail of the American slang she had picked up.

The next spring her brother came over to New York and ran into an Army parade on his way from the docks. He pointed to a huge, lumbering armored vehicle, and said, "What's that?" His guide said proudly, "That's one of our new super-tanks."

"Glory be," gasped the Irishman. "Me sister's married to one of them!"

"Well," snapped Mrs. Lazar, "that would certainly be cheaper than moving!"

'Abdicated' Responsibilities, Importance Of Voting, Tocks Island Seminar

Urges Voters To Wake Up

Editor, The Daily Record:

We the people of Monroe County can no longer endure, this continuous and aggravating tax assault, which is now facing all of us. We will be buried in Hells Torment on Earth, if this continues.

Folk Township is now the highest taxed Township in Pennsylvania.

Our taxes in Monroe County are at an all time high, and if this continues we sure as God made men, shall loose our homes and prestige.

We are the highest taxed and most under paid community of Pennsylvania. Fellow citizens—look around yourself—what do you see?

Corruption in our schools, our County or our State? Or all three!

It's up to the people to put a stop to this. We are living in perilous times, no longer free men and women, but slaves through taxation, through poor government, there is only so much juice in 'one lemon, and I am squeezed dry. I can't go on at the rate we are going. Can you?

Look at our school system, who's pockets are getting lined with Gold?

Look at the roads that are being built. Who's getting a nice cut out of that?

But we all see our hunches and let it pass by. "Oh well," we say, nothing we can do about it.

Get rid of the Hilliers and Muscolinis in our Government, local and state, if you want to survive. Or do you want to be buried alive owing all your taxes?

Let's no longer act like little children, let's act ourselves, grown men and women which we are supposed to be.

Go and see some of the schools which are being built and were built in the past two years of more. See where your money is being wasted, see who is being over paid. You take our school directors are not supposed to be paid, well let me ask you one question? Why do they always run for reelection? Our township supervisors the same.

Did you ever stop and think how much pension our representatives receive after each term he serves? Check up on this. Why should they get a pension? They are well paid for the time they serve. Why should we pay taxes for a pension for them?

You and I work a lifetime and don't get a pension, do we? Stand up and fight. Don't sit back and let this trend continue. Put a stop to it now. You have a chance to do it this fall, at least some of it. Get out and vote, everybody. Make a change this fall or be sorry and don't say, "Oh well, that's the way it's supposed to be". Make a change now.

I ask you as taxpayers, do you feel the same way or do you feel as many others in our County do, that these schools were forced upon us with a tax so great that many of us can no longer pay them. Our taxes in the West End of the County have more than tripled themselves. The same applies to our highway system. If you read in your paper you find one man and woman, all one family from Stroudsburg, have received over $10,000 for a right-of-way for this new road. I would like to know who got a cut out of this settlement for such a tremendous amount?

The same man then bought some property west of the burg, and again the new road goes through the middle of his newly acquired property. I wonder how much will be paid for this property when other people in town whom I talked to will tell you that they had to settle for $20,000 or less for home and business and about three acres of land.

Is this America? The land that so many boys had to die and fight for. It looks as if we have to do the same again. I ask you what did we fight for, die for?

I served in the U.S. Marine Corps during World War II in the Pacific for 2 years where I was wounded and got malaria and gave the best years of my life and what for, so that some politician could get rich. Oh sure, they are glory waving citizens, and tell you they will do everything for you until they are in office then they turn their noses up in the air and tell you that this tax problem is your headache.

You take the lunch program at Pleasant Valley School. It stinks. Yet the children have to pay 30 cents per and if they go back for seconds they have to pay extra.

The school directors also have a special room and plush chairs for their meetings like you won't find in any Banker's office.

We at the West End have paid enough professional fees since the new school was built that we could have hired a real dietician for our cafeteria.

If you do something about this and other matters they soon tell you to shut up. It's none of your business. I wonder whose business it is? I pay high taxes, very high taxes, and at the same time some of the employees at the school never paid property taxes. If you, whoever you are, ever get to the West End and see our beautiful brick school that sits in a hole that even the well was contaminated last year. This property was purchased for $1,400 per acre. "Oh yes", we pay our taxes and shut up or should be but I ask you should we or should we put a stop to it. How about you? Are you willing to help? You probably have similar problems where you live.

Lets wake up before it's too late.

Mr. Schnitzer Gets His Brochure

Editor, The Daily Record:

A strange thing happened today, October 19, 1962. The glib-dee-dook from the Water Resources Association in Philadelphia arrived in my office.

Strangely enough there is no date on the post-mark to show when the letter was mailed. That means, of course, that I am unable to trace its mailing date. Everybody else, however, who attended the E.S.S.C. shindig last Saturday (Oct. 13) did get the briefing material when the briefing material should have arrived. Mystery: Why did mine arrive late?

Further, that was a lovely eulogy on Tocks Island that was delivered by Mr. Bensinger, according to the Record of October 17th. He revealed, unfortunately, in the course of his disquisition that he is a poor mathematician when it comes to Tocks Island. Where he arrived at the figure of a hundred and nineteen-million dollars is mystifying.

I have heard and read of amounts extending anywhere from fifty-million to two-billion. Other than that, I believe that Mr. Bensinger should not be too deeply concerned.

The people who loved the not-to-be inundated Delaware Valley have done a fairly good job for the past few years. They have succeeded in keeping it open for the benefit of the public for at least that length of time.

That is a real tear-jerker on the last page of the Record of October 20th, 1962. It would appear that a lot of long eared members of the intelligentsia dished up one-hundred bucks each for a hamburger on rye (should be spelled wry) and a saucer full of applause. One of the ingredients of the latter lip-smaker was the revelation that Uncle Sam is in hock for a lot of dough.

Good Guy Walter was the one who supplied the applause, according to the article. He forgot to mention that when J.F.K. began to lead us down the Road to Ruin, the national debt was less than two-hundred and ninety billion. Today it is three-hundred and eight billion.

The Good Guy also forgot to mention that he has an Americans for Democratic Action rating of about ninety percent and an Americans for Conservative Action rating of about ten. It is suggested that the Good Guy's constituents WRYTE him and ask to what extent his voting in Congress contributed to the present national debt. Also let him submit a figure showing how much of the propaganda spent on the abortive Tocks Island dirty deal is to be figured in the national debt. I am a poor mathematician. I flunked trigonometry in college twice.

The significant thing about the kindly Congressman's TOCKSIN rington was that no reference was made to the glories and pleasures to be anticipated from Tocks Island Dam.

Also a Pike County Weekly reports that Colonel Settle "who is considered the top authority on the Tocks Island project" told the "assemblage" at ESSC that the Dam will take till 1975 to complete depending on how stupid this, that, and a couple of other people may be in voting money for the project.

A lot of people in Bushkill still refuse to see the light and are refraining from investing in an Irish Sweepstake ticket.

The Record continues to fascinate me. The Good Guy should write a book on how to be a clever politician. The Bad Guy would be a charter subscriber to the tome and would ask to have his copy autographed.

Henry R. Schnitzer

'Abdicated' Responsibilities

Editor, The Daily Record:

Another gas station arises in the Stroudsburgs. All hail the power of competition, free enterprise, and the oil depletion allowance. In the event of consolidation, the boros might adopt the distinctive, if dubious, nomenclature of the Gasboros, an appropriate subtitle nonetheless.

Meanwhile, the councils discuss weight matters as the judicious time to observe Halloween, and the details of parades. Perhaps they might also discuss the portentous questions of borough consolidation, regional lanning, and zoning. Single, small, commendable efforts have been and are being made, but more is needed.

Fragmented governments, like fragmented nations and fragmented churches, are at a disadvantage and, in fact, are obstacles to progress. It is a democratic. It is a luxury we can little afford. Government, like business, in 1962, must be operated in a professional manner.

Similarly, we cannot allow things to grow in a haphazard, disorderly manner because of enchantment with the figment of freedom. Few things are done today free of regulation, however it seems. Due respect for the considerations and opinions of your neighbors, who are becoming ever closer and more numerous, dictates that this shall be an eventuality. It is because of abdicated responsibility that the state and national governments assume more duties and taxes jump.

An Envious Record

The record of Representative Van D. Yetter's service to the citizens of Monroe County is certainly one that warrants his re-election to another term in that body. This, coupled with the legislative services he has rendered and practical knowledge he has gained during his previous terms makes him entirely qualified. His seniority of course, is now a very valuable asset to every citizen here.

Representative Yetter has worked diligently during his tenure in Harrisburg to further the interests of Monroe County and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. His attention to the needs of his people are indicated by the fact that he is constantly available locally to listen to requests and suggestions, and has also been on hand where it really counts—when the voting is conducted on varied legislation in the State Capitol.

For instance, during the 1962 session of the House of Representatives, there were 103 roll calls. Representative Yetter was present for ALL of them!

While he has been in office, Representative Yetter has been named to many important legislative committees. Currently, he is chairman of a new task force of the Joint State Government Commission which is studying the tax structure in the Commonwealth to find and remedy unfair burdens on the "little fellow."

He is also vice-chairman of the Committee on Highways, secretary of the Agriculture Committee, and a member of the Game and Conservation Committee and the Fisheries Committee. These are committees of stature and service to the people here—another demonstration that sincerity is invaluable.

In our own area, Yetter was instrumental in blocking a proposed plan for the Stroudsburg Thruway that would have just changed the bottleneck in Stroudsburg from 7th and Main Streets to 9th and Main, isolating East Stroudsburg. Instead he fought for the Thruway as it has been constructed — to benefit the entire area. Then he continued the drive for extension of Rt. 80—now being constructed, as well as the 209 construction.

Another area of achievement has been the tourist promotion assistance program, by which the area has received matching funds from Harrisburg—for the first time and in the largest amount—to promote tourism—one of our major economic factors in the Pocono Mountains.

Statewide, he has been in on the sponsorship of anti-litter bills to improve the beauty of highways, and has fought for the restricting of unsightly billboards along our highways.

Yetter has worked with other legislators on the State and Federal levels in the planning of the Tocks Island Dam and the creation of an extensive national recreation area in our midst, the result of which will be a tremendous boost in our economic picture for many years to come. This is not to be contraverted. It's in the legislative record—no matter what anyone says.

On the basis of experience and accomplishment, The Daily Record heartily endorses Van D. Yetter for reelection to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, and we trust that the voters of Monroe County will consider these and many other related factors when they cast their votes in the General Election next week.

YOU NEED CONGRESSMAN WALTER IN WASHINGTON

FELLOW CITIZENS:

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS, BELIEVE THAT IN YOUR OWN INTEREST YOU SHOULD RETURN FRANCIS E. WALTER TO WASHINGTON FOR ANOTHER TERM IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

What his fellow Congressmen say

If you want to know the true value of a man ask his working associates — in this instance his fellow Congressmen. Here is what they say — Republicans as well as Democrats — quoted from the official Congressional Record.

Speaker McCormack:

"Throughout the years, Francis Walter has served his country with distinction, great ability, and courage. He reflects credit not only upon his congressional district which he has served so loyally, but upon our Nation as a whole."

Speaker Rayburn:

"Walter is one of the most useful men in the House. I have put him in the Chair as presiding officer when hot bills come along because every Member has faith in him."

Congressman Walter Judd (Republican-Minnesota):

"It has been my privilege to serve in this House with Mr. Walter for 18 years. Any newspaper, any person, any group that makes critical or derogatory remarks about this gentleman or his patriotism, his courage, his judgment, his vigor, his exceptional all around abilities, is speaking either out of ignorance or prejudice."

Congressman Edwin Willis (Democrat-Louisiana):

"We are thankful not only for Congressman Walter's good health but for the fact that he will remain with us. His District, his State, his Country, and particularly this body will be better off for it. He has mastered the art of legislation to a degree unsurpassed by any other Member and some of the most important laws enacted during this generation bear his name."

Congressman James C. Davis (Democrat-Georgia):

"On January 2, 1961 he was elected for a 2-year term to serve as Chairman of the Democratic Caucus in the House — the highest party office in that body. The vote was unanimous. It was the second time he has been so elected.

"He is respected no less by the Republicans on the other side of the aisle. When Congressman Walter rose in the House on March 1, 1961, to speak in behalf of the annual appropriation for his committee, the entire body gave him a standing ovation and prolonged applause."

Congressman Dan Flood (Democrat-Pennsylvania):

"Mr. Speaker, the prolonged standing ovation given by the House to our colleague Ted Walter, yesterday, at the conclusion of his untiring presiding over our debate on the Civil rights bill was certainly a most deserved tribute."

Congressman Donald Jackson (Republican-California):

"I am a Republican, Mr. Speaker, and I hope a good one. But, for my part, and this may be heresy of a high order down in the Republican National Committee, I would be as content if Francis Walter remained in the Congress of the United States until he is 90."

His Service for European Migrants

Most persons in his District are not aware of our Congressman's far-reaching international activities particularly in the humanitarian field. Since the close of World War II he has spearheaded in behalf of the United States the vast work of relocating victims of Nazi and Communist persecution.

He obtained the passage of laws under which homeless persons were able to come to the United States, and it was he who devised the formula under which European refugees found homes in Australia, Canada and Latin America. He has represented the government of the United States at meetings of the Inter-Governmental Committee for European Migration. On the day 2 years ago at Naples, Italy, when the one-millionth migrant embarked for his home overseas, Mr. Walter was elected President of the organization.

WE REPEAT OUR BELIEF THAT YOU HAVE A MAN REPRESENTING YOU IN CONGRESS WHOM, IN YOUR OWN INTEREST REGARDLESS OF YOUR PARTY AFFILIATION, YOU SHOULD KEEP IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AS LONG AS HE WILL CONSENT TO SERVE.

SEEKING CHANNELS — Channels to Peace were discussed at the United Church Women's worship service yesterday in the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. Taking part were, (left to right) Mrs. Alphonse Meyer, chairman of the Commission on World Affairs; Mrs. Arthur Eilenberger, in charge of worship; Mrs. Claude Leister, president of the Monroe County Council of United Church Women; Mrs. John Pentz, Jr., and Mrs. Malcolm Blake, guest speaker.

Dramatic Need For Deep Channels To World Peace

The World situation during the past two weeks brought out a vital meaning to the United Church Women's theme, "Deepen the Channels to Peace" yesterday at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Malcolm S. Blake, of Bethlehem, was guest speaker. She told the congregation of women that "There is a dramatic need for channels and it is up to us to see that we do everything that can be done."

"As Christian women," she pointed out, "we must do as much as possible and not sit adamant on our faith." She said the women should follow God's plan to accomplish peace.

Mrs. Blake outlined suggestions as means for deepening the channels. "Development for underprivileged countries of the world will aid in removing war's causes," she added. In line with this, she mentioned the improvement of communications and killing prevalent diseases.

"Another stand," she quoted, "is disarmament." In this area, we must be sure that it is not a one-sided disarmament, for then, those with power to make war, will do so."

A third postulate upon which to base world peace, Mrs. Blake told the women, is the United Nations. There, members of the differing countries are able to "explode" with words, not bombs or guns. But, more than that, she allowed that the UN is machinery for peace and enables opposing factions to reach agreement through discussion and lend help where needed through various agencies for aid.

"These," she said, "are world channels, and we must become more involved on the personal level." In doing this, she suggested that the women consider four H's, "head, heart, hands and help."

"We must think, be informed and discuss," she told the women. "And, by doing this, we will be able to assemble the best of Christian ideals."

"Our hearts must be understanding of others on a personal level and hold a loving attitude toward all others, regardless of race or creed." She gave a short resume to illustrate her meaning.

"Through our hands," she continued, "we must work to aid by sewing, mending and gathering goods for others."

The material goods came under the heading of "help" by donations of money to CARE and other UN organizations and work within their own churches.

Mrs. Blake pointed out various ways of giving this help.

She concluded with a poetic quotation which hinged on the words, "Christ, the Way of Peace."

Mrs. Blake has been associated with Lehigh University and active in social education at the First Presbyterian Church, Bethlehem. Her activities also include the Foreign Policy Council for the United Church Women and directorship of a model UN with teenagers participating.

Mrs. Claude Leister, president of the Monroe County Council of United Church Women, introduced Mrs. Blake.

During the worship service, Mrs. Vernon Eilenberger gave the call to worship after a prelude by Robert Currier at the organ.

Mrs. John Pentz, Jr., read the prayer by St. Francis of Assisi. Soloist, Mrs. Richard Davis sang, "Lead Thou My Soul" and "O Lord, Be Merciful" during the service.

Mrs. Douglas Kitson, Mrs. Dorell Mader and Mrs. Donald Burger gave a three part reading from their places in the congregation entitled, "Channels to Peace."

Mrs. John Apple, Mrs. William Vincent, Mrs. Alvin MacWilliams and Mrs. Nathan Kishpaugh told the offering and presented sewing kits for the dedication of gifts. The kits will be given to the women of Indonesia.

Mrs. Alphonse J. Meyer, chairman of the Commission on World Relations, was in charge of arranging for the service. She announced that the 22 cooperating churches had turned in a total of 280 sewing kits.

Rev. Frank W. Wingerter, pastor of the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, closed the service with the benediction.

Mrs. Jesse Flory was in charge of the social hour which followed.

Members of the Commission on World Relations Committee are Mrs. Murrel Kiefer, Mrs. Mader, Mrs. Seldon Ponder, Mrs. Pentz, Mrs. Burger, Mrs. Elmer Christine, Mrs. Eilenberger, Mrs. Kitson, Mrs. Harold E. Treible, Mrs. Edith Cortright, Mrs. Thomas Roth, Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, Mrs. Flory and Mrs. Leister.

The welcome committee was composed of Mrs. Clifford Cramer, Mrs. John Rumsey, Mrs. Wendell Wicks, Mrs. Irving Foltz, Mrs. Ernest Staples and Mrs. Frank Wingerter.

Miss Amy Peters was in charge of the nursery.

Orson Welles' "Citizen Kane" At College

THE second showing of this season's series of World Films will be held today at 8:15 p. m. at the East Stroudsburg State College auditorium. Non-subscribers are welcome for a small charge and college students are admitted by showing their activity cards.

Tonight's main feature is "Citizen Kane" which was directed by Orson Welles. Included in the cast are Orson Welles, Joseph Cotten, Agnes Moorehead, Everett Sloan, Ruth Warwick and Dorothy Comingore.

This is Welles' first and most famous film, a devastating biography of a newspaper tycoon in which new expressions and film techniques were employed to depict and develop character and story.

Sometimes painstakingly lifelike, sometimes avant-garde, always compelling and imaginative, "Citizen Kane" is one of the great critical successes and landmarks of the American cinema.

Also to be shown, "Pre-historic Images," is a color short of a brilliant exploration of the prehistoric caves of France and Spain. Shown are extraordinary paintings found there and the character of the men who created them.

The striking animal forms and other pictures seen in amazing detail and magnificent color are the first art of man. Created in the age of the glaciers 10,000 to 40,000 years ago, they provide illuminating images of the world of man in western Europe before recorded history.

Even the males have succumbed to the fad!

I heard a horn honking madly as I crossed Main street at Sixth the other morning, enroute to the radio station. Being in a hurry and defying the light (a glance assured me traffic was light and moving very slowly), I paid no attention. Too bad I didn't! I later learned my hecklers were Sam Patinka, Windy Sandt, and Max Beaver, who were traveling in a Wyckoff pickup truck wearing red, blonde and brunette wigs. (No, I'm not sure what they were hoping to pick up! — at any rate, they must have looked scrumptious.)

The wigs were rather ratty castoffs from our Wyckoff mannequins... but our "glamour boys" can, if need be, purchase new ones in our Millinery department. As a matter of fact, I think we should re-name them to suit the situation! Sam, Windy, and Max — I christen thee "our favorite Uncle Wig-geys."

Wonder if Velma Blount and her husband have returned from Europe? A card postmarked October 15th, arrives telling about their visit to Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Luxembourg and the Mediterranean countries. Perhaps the greatest thrill for Velma, a devout Catholic, was a sojourn at Lourdes. It must have been inspiring and wonderful, and I look forward to hearing about it when she next visits Wyckoff's.

Mary Leister, wife of Dr. Claude Leister of the Pocono Wild Animal Farm, was a guest on our Wyckoff radio program the other morning in behalf of yesterday's World Community Day services at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. Mary always looks smart, and was wearing a double knit suit, a smart toque with quill decoration, and a fascinating sterling bracelet decorated with raised animals—llamas, perhaps. I did not examine them closely, and she may be surprised to learn that I even observed this handsome ornament.

After the broadcast she said, "there's something I simply must tell you. I think Wyckoff's Gift department is to be commended for the exceptionally fine African sculptured pieces you sell there. Some time ago, I purchased four of the napkin rings that are carved from wood and decorated with standing animals... giraffes and so forth. I knew my grandchildren would love them."

"The very weekend I put them into use, Dr. Leister and I were entertaining the gentleman who arrived in this country shortly before with a shipment of rare white rhinos. He has spent years in Africa and is very well acquainted with the natives, their customs, and their arts, and he was most impressed with the napkin rings. They are carved from olive wood, he said, but while he has spent hours watching them work, he had never seen anything quite like these. He felt they were wonderfully representative of their art, and was fascinated when I told him I had purchased them here at Wyckoff's."

I'm so pleased Mary told me this story. Sometimes, I think, one gets a clearer view of the familiar things at hand simply by viewing them through the eyes of a stranger.

Apple Windfall Proves Treasure For Recipes

By Linda Piper
Daily Record Home Economist

I had a nice letter the other day from Mrs. Helen Schultz of Stroudsburg, RD 3 and Wynne-wood, Pa., giving me a delicious apple recipe. She told me to save the pretty apples from the market for the silver bowl on the buffet because juicy, cider apples from a neglected orchard or a windfall from the neighbor's trees were perfect for this recipe. Mrs. Schultz assured me that it's not rich or loaded with calories.

It's a very old recipe, at least 75 years, that came from her Aunt Gertrude whom she remembers as a true "artist in the kitchen."

And that it will double or triple easily, freeze well, and is perfect for church suppers!

It sounded so good I just could not resist making it for supper the same night and it was luscious. In fact I was so impressed that I served it to guests a few days later and they, "Urn, this is good," all through dessert.

I promised that the recipe would be in my column and if you like apples, cut this out as soon as you read it or else you'll forget.

Aunt Gertrude's Apple Pudding

Cream until light:

1 cup brown sugar

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Stir in:

1 1/2 cups sifted All-Purpose flour

1 teaspoon baking soda

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup chopped nuts

1/2 cup raisins if desired (dates or candied fruit can be substituted)

4 tablespoons cold water

2 cups pared diced apples

Bake in greased 8 by 8 pan or 7 by 11 pyrex dish, 350-degree oven for 25 minutes or until toothpick remains clean. Batter will be stiff.

Sauce:

1 cup light brown sugar

2 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch

2 1/2 tablespoons butter or big chunk

1 1/2 cup water

Cook until clear and thickened a bit. Flavor with 1 teaspoon vanilla or sherry to taste.

Serve warm with hot sauce.

For the elegant touch, add a dollop of whipped cream. Serves 6 to 8.

Are you familiar with cranberry juice cocktail? It's a good mixer with other fruit juices for a beverage or serve it by itself for breakfast if you're tired of the same juice. Or add it as the cold liquid when making a salad using gelatin desserts. Here's a recipe I tried last week that is good. It's tart and particularly nice with pork.

Tart Cranberry Salad

1 pint bottle (2 cups) cranberry juice cocktail

1 3/4 oz. package lemon gelatin

1/4 teaspoon salt

1 cup diced unpeeled apple

1/2 cup chopped celery

1/4 cup broken walnuts

Heat 1 cup of the cranberry juice cocktail just to the boiling point. Dissolve gelatin in it. Add remaining juice and salt. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Stir in apple, celery, and nuts. Pour into 4 or 5 molds or square pan. Chill until firm; serve on lettuce.

Here's another way to use the juice. This is a pretty party pie, but easy enough to make for the family a couple of hours before dinner.

Cranberry Chiffon Pie

1 cup cranberry juice cocktail

1 package strawberry or lemon

Daily Swim Keeps Her Trim 'N Slim

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Emile Jackson turned in her Women's Army Corps (WAC) sergeant's stripes some years ago, but she still manages to stay fit and trim.

Mrs. Jackson says her secret is an almost daily swim in the Atlantic Ocean off Miami Beach, where she has lived the past 10 years. Before moving to Florida, she lived in Washington, D. C.

Admitted to 67 years of age, Mrs. Jackson usually swims about 14 blocks or so in the calm surf. She learned to swim when she was 49.

Mrs. Jackson says she tries to keep active and avoid a rocking chair existence. She says proudly, "I'm not in a rut about anything."

Persons with whom she served in the army from 1943 and 1945 frequently call on Mrs. Jackson when they come to Miami Beach for a visit. And she keeps busy as chairman of the Miami WAC-Vets Association.

At one time, Mrs. Jackson, a son and daughter were all in uniform. Sergeant Jackson out-ranked her daughter, who was a WAC private first class. Her son was a Navy enlisted man.

Mrs. Jackson, who is a widow, said she first tried to enlist when the WAC's were organized in May, 1942, but was told she was too old. She said, "I tried again in September, 1943 and they took me."

Does your family enjoy cheese? Treat them occasionally to a kind they haven't yet tasted. Here are a few suggestions: Gjetost, of Norwegian origin, has a sweet caramel-like flavor; Mozzarella, of Italian origin, is wonderfully mild and delicate in flavor; Roquefort, from France, owes its distinctive flavor to sheep's milk.

chiffon pie filling mix

One-third cup sugar

1 cooled baked 9-inch shell or graham cracker crust.

Chill 1/2 cup cranberry juice.

Heat remaining 1/2 cup to boiling. Add to pie filling mix in a large mixing bowl and stir well.

Add the chilled cranberry juice and beat vigorously with rotary egg beater or electric mixer at highest speed until mixture is very foamy. Add sugar and beat until mixture stands in peaks. . .

takes 1 to 3 minutes. Spoon into pie shell. Chill until set (about 2 hours). Serve plain or with whipped cream. Store leftover pie in refrigerator, covered with inverted pie pan.

Wigs Continue High In Popularity, Fashion

Los Angeles (AP) — A 6-year-old toddler into a toy shop in swank Beverly Hills the other day and ordered:

"A wig, please. I want a red one."

Minutes later, she tucked her blonde ringlets under the hair-piece and walked out a redhead.

It was the latest episode of a female phenomenon that might well tag 1962 as the Year of the Wig.

Hair Shortage Now

Wigs have baffled police, caused rifts in otherwise stable marriages and deflated otherwise paunchy wallets. They have even caused a hair shortage.

Fred Fredericks, head of the wig department at one of the nation's largest hairpiece manufacturers, swears this one's true:

A woman whose husband hates wigs bought one anyway. At the same time, she purchased a hair net and sewed curlers into it.

At night, the story goes, she waits until her husband is asleep, climbs out of bed and hides her wig in a drawer. Then she puts on the hair net and goes to sleep in curlers.

The next morning, she eats breakfast with her husband, wearing the hair net. When he leaves for work, she removes the net and puts the wig back on.

"She told me," says Fredericks, "that her husband was gloating the other day over how much better she looks since she's been fixing her own hair."

Now in Synthetics

Wigs, once worn only by actresses or gentlemen with thinning pates, began to catch on three years ago with the high fashion set.

They were ideal, reasoned the ladies, between trips to the hairdresser — or after a dip in the pool.

So popular did they become — and so fervently did manufacturers follow the rage — that today you can buy a wig of synthetic hair, little girl size, for $6, or one made in Paris of real hair for $50. There are do-it-yourself wig kits. And one firm offers "his" and "hers" combos, the guy's dyed to match the gal's.

Bargain basement sell wigs for $35, cut rate drug stores for $12. But those aren't of real hair.

Wigs Continue High In Popularity, Fashion

Los Angeles (AP) — A 6-year-old toddler into a toy shop in swank Beverly Hills the other day and ordered:

"A wig, please. I want a red one."

Minutes later, she tucked her blonde ringlets under the hair-piece and walked out a redhead.

It was the latest episode of a female phenomenon that might well tag 1962 as the Year of the Wig.

Hair Shortage Now

Wigs have baffled police, caused rifts in otherwise stable marriages and deflated otherwise paunchy wallets. They have even caused a hair shortage.

Fred Fredericks, head of the wig department at one of the nation's largest hairpiece manufacturers, swears this one's true:

A woman whose husband hates wigs bought one anyway. At the same time, she purchased a hair net and sewed curlers into it.

At night, the story goes, she waits until her husband is asleep, climbs out of bed and hides her wig in a drawer. Then she puts on the hair net and goes to sleep in curlers.

The next morning, she eats breakfast with her husband, wearing the hair net. When he leaves for work, she removes the net and puts the wig back on.

"She told me," says Fredericks, "that her husband was gloating the other day over how much better she looks since she's been fixing her own hair."

Now in Synthetics

Wigs, once worn only by actresses or gentlemen with thinning pates, began to catch on three years ago with the high fashion set.

They were ideal, reasoned the ladies, between trips to the hairdresser — or after a dip in the pool.

So popular did they become — and so fervently did manufacturers follow the rage — that today you can buy a wig of synthetic hair, little girl size, for $6, or one made in Paris of real hair for $50. There are do-it-yourself wig kits. And one firm offers "his" and "hers" combos, the guy's dyed to match the gal's.

Bargain basement sell wigs for $35, cut rate drug stores for $12. But those aren't of real hair.

Nu-U Club Loses Part Of Members But Still Grows

Edmonton, Can. (AP) — The Nu-U Club is losing part of its membership all the time and still growing.

Formed last April as a kind of Alcoholics Anonymous for nibblers instead of tipplers, it takes credit for a total loss in weight of 294 pounds among seven of its members.

One member, who once weighed 258 pounds, now weighs 182 and is hoping to reach 130.

Mrs. E. G. Abrook, one of the club's charter members (195 pounds to 133), says most members are forced to lose weight for health reasons. Doing it together, they found they still could have fun while rejecting the calories.

Gives Incentive

Mrs. H. Moody (down 50), says "We usually visit our doctors three days after the weekly club meeting. That way we have a double morale booster each week."

Another woman (down 35), said "We all have incentive. Some have high blood pressure and some thyroid or heart trouble. I want another baby. The doctor says I must lose weight first."

Follow Doctor's Orders

All members are required to have a medical examination before they start dieting and then they follow the doctor's orders.

"When a luscious chocolate cake stares them in the face," says Mrs. Abrook, "They telephone another member and drink a quick cup of coffee or glass of fruit juice in which a package of gelatine has been dissolved. Gelatine does wonders for the hair, skin and nails."

The women claim the club program does something for their husbands, too. One quoted her husband as saying: "My, your ankles are getting pretty."

Fashionable Scarf Hat Not Fashion

By Jean Sprain Wilson

Although women shrewdly refrain from discussing it, they have hats full of proof they are not slaves to fashion.

Indeed, fashion is slave to them. Men should be so lucky — they with their cold, exposed ears and sideburns that sometimes confess a forgotten haircut.

Could they get away with scarf hats, the lady's latest fashion toiler? Nay, the male sex is too inhibited to wrap itself like an Arab and then top it all with a hat.

Yet females for years have been carefully conditioning humanity until it now condones anything they wear in the name of fashion. Thus, today they can even be practical about clothes and still be stylish.

Here's the scarf hat. A woman commands it to do any number of things. When the mercury drops she calls upon it to keep her ears cozy. She also hauls it into service when her dark roots begin to show. Or when she has curlers in her hair. Or when she suspects her chin is getting too fleshy.

She can count on the practical part one, the scarf, to hide such a multitude of sins, while the esthetic part two makes her look chic, coquettish, elegant and fashionably complete.

Even so, the scarf hat is such a complimentary combination that perfect beauties, or women without a dark root or a bobby pin to shroud, are wearing them simply because they look perfectly beautiful in them.

They also look mysterious, exotic, boyish, or dramatic, depending on the type they chose.

Veterans on the hat scarf scene are the knitted hat and sporty headwarmer, drawn snugly around the chin.

Ordinarily the winter wind could whip off the large brimmed roller, sombrero or puffed beret, but not when it is so charmingly and securely tied down to stay put. Even pill boxes and small derbies are adding their flattery to tailored coats and suits, with

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday Haggai 1:2-6	Monday Haggai 1:12-15	Tuesday Ezra 3:8-11	Wednesday Matthew 5:21-26	Thursday Malachi 3:6-12	Friday II Corinthians 9:6-15	Saturday Mark 12:38-44
---------------------------	-----------------------------	---------------------------	---------------------------------	-------------------------------	------------------------------------	------------------------------

It's November. And in many a local Church it's time to think about the budget for another year.

This is cause for being thankful. Really it is!

For aren't there many places in this world where men haven't any opportunity to support their Church... or any Church to support if they had opportunity?

And aren't there many places where men are compelled to work for causes they do not believe in... instead of free to work for a cause in which they do believe?

Frankly, much of the responsibility for keeping our land and our people what we want them to be rests with our Churches.

So let's rejoice in that happy American tradition — the Church budget.

And, in keeping with another fine tradition of our people, let's roll up our sleeves and help!

Cavaliers Defeat Port Jervis, 13-0

PORT JERVIS, N.Y. — East Stroudsburg High School's Cavaliers last night ended their scoring drought as Jammy Steele thundered across for two touchdowns and a 13-0 victory in the last meeting between these two schools.

The Cavaliers of Coach Jack Kist gained their fifth win of the season while chalking up the seventh straight against the Ports.

Strike Quickly

For East Stroudsburg, who struck quickly by hitting pay dirt in each of the first two periods,

Pen Argyl Meets Hellertown Today

PEN ARGYL—Still smarting from their crushing 48-27 loss to Wilson Boro last week, the Green Knights of Pen Argyl today tackle undefeated Hellertown in another Lehigh-Northampton League contest at the Panthers' field. Kick-off time is 2 p. m.

Focus of attention once again—as they always are whenever Pen Argyl takes the field—will be the dynamic touchdown twins of Gary Heard and Bob Engler. It could be quite a scrap if both boys play all the way and up to par.

Heard last week scored three TDs and 21 points in the first half of the game against Wilson before he was ejected for exchanging fistfuffs in the end zone following his third TD of the afternoon.

Hold Scoreless

Engler, meanwhile, was held scoreless in that contest—and that, in itself, is a most unusual predicament for the charges of Coach Elwood Petchel. It was the first time he has not scored in two seasons.

Thus far, Engler has scored 78

ESSC Offers Course In Field Safety

THE Recreation Council of East Stroudsburg State College is sponsoring a "Hunter Safety" course designed to teach safety procedures in the handling of weapons in hunting and target shooting.

John Doebeling, Pennsylvania District Game Protector, will conduct a class in actual shooting practice on the range of a local hunting and fishing club.

Forty-two students have signed for the four-hour course. Classroom presentation on safety is an integral part of the program.

Government Urges End To Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal government has urged the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association to end their feud, it was learned Friday.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy acknowledged that Federal officials had expressed "a definite interest" in the long hassle between the two major amateur sports organizations.

Kennedy was reported to have met recently with officials of the two groups to urge them to resolve their differences over control of the nation's biggest organized amateur athletic programs.

The Attorney General refused to confirm or deny the report, but added:

"They know how we feel about this situation."

"We hope that the two groups will get together and iron out their differences so that the United States will be well represented in the Olympics in 1964."

it marked the first time in three games the Kist Kids have crossed the goal line. They were blanked in their last two outings by Wilson Boro and Hellertown.

East Stroudsburg's defense shown brightly in this battle as Port Jervis failed to generate any serious scoring threat or move on any kind of a sustained march. Kist had switched his defensive unit for this game, sacrificing weight for speed and aggressiveness. The shift worked well.

The Cavaliers kicked off to the points while totting the ball 731 yards on 85 carries for a highly-impressive 8.5 yards per carry.

Heard, who has tallied 42 points in the last two games (or game-and-a-half, if you will), has accounted for 86 of his team's points while lugging the leather for 687 yards in 83 carries for an average of eight yards per.

Hellertown, meanwhile, puts a seven-game winning streak on the line (including four in league competition). A win today would assure the Panthers of at least a tie for L-N laurels.

Stick To Ground

Heard and Engler, along with fullback Jim Rodney, will have to be at their peak in this battle since the Panthers outweigh the Knights about 20 pounds per man in the line. And Petchel, undoubtedly, despite this obstacle, will stick mostly on the ground with his running attack, as he has in all previous contests this year.

After all, he's got the horses—and he lets them run.

Pete Frable is the only casualty on the Knights' list. He will be replaced by Fred Buzzard in the defensive lineup.

The other starters include: Terry Sandt, quarterback; Engler and Heard at halves; and Rodney at fullback; Rodger Snyder and Dave Parsons, ends; Terry Miller and Tony Policelli, tackles; Bob Tobias and Tom Knitter, guards; and Tom Lugg, center.

'Greatest' Performance Unnoticed

UNIVERSITY PARK — Poor Pete Liske.

Penn State's junior quarterback comes up with the greatest performance of his career last Saturday in the Lions' 23-21 win at California and no notices it because a Cal soph named Craig Morton completes 20 of 23 passes and nearly pulls off what would have been one of the big upsets of the year.

No one notices it, that is, except Penn State coach Rip Engle. "This was Pete's finest day," said Engle of a performance that saw Liske complete 14 of 17 passes (he was eight for eight before he missed) for 150 yards and one touchdown and direct the Lion attack with poise, imagination, and intelligence.

Though Morton was more spectacular, Liske was more workmanlike, coolly moving State on touchdown marches of 80, 77, and 74 yards. On these marches he cleverly sent backs Roger Kochman, Dave Hayes, or Al Gursky slicing into the California line, pitched wide to Kochman on sweeps, or passed to Gursky and Dave Robinson on intricate pass patterns.

"Liske has come on strong since the Army game," explains Engle. "He did a fine job against Syracuse and an even better one last Saturday. He's a good quarterback and will continue to improve."

Liske has completed 60 of 103 passes for 650 yards and six touchdowns and now ranks as the No. 10 passer in the country. Today he'll match skills with Maryland's Dick Shiner who ranks first nationally. Shiner has completed 87 of 131 for 1,034 yards and four scores.

This potential aerial battle between two teams which own identical 5-1 records is expected to attract a crowd of 41,000 to Beaver Stadium.

DVC Aggies In Final Home Game

THE Aggies of Delaware Valley College close out the home portion of their schedule today with Drexel Tech which has rolled to four straight wins this season after dropping its opener to Coast Guard Academy. After this encounter, the Aggies take to the road for their two remaining games with Millersville State and Susquehanna.

While the Aggies were losing 26-7 to Lycoming College last weekend, the Dragons were handing Pennsylvania Military College a 31-8 defeat. Drexel and Lycoming had a lot of help from their opponents who gave up fumbles and passes which proved costly.

Now Aggies will have to play a more convincing brand of ball with the Dragons to bring their record to the .500 mark.

Drexel, with a 4-1 record, has one of its best teams in the past six years and considered a sure bet to take the south college division honors in the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Rams' Allen Is Sidelined

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Duane Allen, promising young Los Angeles Rams end, has a knee injury that probably will sideline him for the season and may necessitate surgery, the club said Friday.

Allen, 25, in his second year with the Rams, limped off the field last Sunday after catching a touchdown pass against the San Francisco 49ers.

Sign Agreement With Milwaukee

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Bears of the American Association said Friday they have signed a working agreement with the Milwaukee Braves of the National League for the 1963 baseball season.

Denver parted company earlier this year with the Detroit Tigers with whom the Bears were affiliated for three seasons.

NFL Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League will hold its annual meeting in Miami Beach, Fla., starting Jan. 29, Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced Friday.

Ports to start the game, and soon forced the New Yorkers to punt. Eastburg took over on the mid-field stripe and in eight plays slammed into the end zone with Steele crashing over from the five for a 6-0 lead.

The second TD came like a bolt out of the blue.

Taking over once again on the 50-yard line, Steele took a screen pass from Quarterback Jack Van Horn and raced the remaining distance for the TD. Mike Ajygin's kick was good for the 13-0 halftime lead.

Twice in the second half the Cavaliers fumbled away potential touchdowns deep in Port Jervis territory — which has increasingly become a fetish with the Eastburgers this season.

Recover Fumble

In the third stanza, the Cavaliers had driven 70 yards to the Port Jervis 10 when Steele fumbled and the Ports recovered.

Again in the final period the Eastburg eleven drove down to the Ports' five, only to lose the ball once more on another fumble, this time by Van Horn.

In all, the Cavaliers fumbled the ball three times, and lost the pigskin each time. Port Jervis fumbled but once — and also lost it.

Feds Refuse Policing Of Horse Racing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government refused again Friday to take over the job of policing labor relations in the multi-billion-dollar horse racing industry.

A group of horse owners and trainers, including Max Hirsch, have for a 1½ years been trying through the National Labor Relations Board and the courts to get the board to assert jurisdiction over their labor problems.

The board said that with states already regulating horse racing extensively and taxing tracks to the extent of $200 million annually, the states can be expected to keep the labor peace in horse racing. The NLRB said however, it's scratching racing from its jurisdiction is "not irrevocable."

The Teamsters Union has been organizing the grooms, exercise boys and other employees of the owner-trainers. The latter apparently feel that if they have to deal with a union it would be better done under federal rather than state law.

"The fact that the employees involved move across state lines," the NLRB said Friday, "is not alone sufficient to justify the board in asserting jurisdiction."

Davis Ready To Resume For Browns

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ernie Davis now is in condition to play with the Cleveland Browns, but there is a question whether he could help the team more than the player who would have to be cut from the roster. Art Modell, club president, said Friday.

"I feel as good as I ever felt in my life," Davis said during a workout Thursday at League Park. "I'm ready now. It's just up to him," he said, pointing out on the field to Coach Paul Brown.

Won't Comment

Brown won't comment about the situation, but it is known he is reluctant to put the 22-year-old All-America halfback on the team at this time.

Davis, the nation's top collegiate player in 1961 with Syracuse university, has leukemia. But the deadly blood disease is in a perfect state of remission, according to doctors. Remission means the disease has been halted temporarily. This is not uncommon in leukemia cases.

No Effects

Davis said he has never felt any weakening effects from leukemia, which doctors now disclose first struck him in early June. He played two contact games in June and July. It was not until just prior to the College All-Star game in Chicago that he was known to be ailing.

Ever since he got the go-ahead signal for workouts starting Oct. 8—a few days after the club disclosed to Davis and the public he had leukemia — the powerfully built athlete has been striving to whip himself into trim football condition. He has gained five pounds to 218, eight pounds above his 1961 playing weight.

Daily Workout

He goes through a daily workout—two days a week by himself—which includes running more than 3 miles wind sprints and rigorous calisthenics. He also tosses a football before and after the training sessions.

Davis has not received medication for leukemia for more than a month and his condition remains unchanged—no trace of the disease in his blood. He undergoes checkups periodically. The last one was completed Monday.

Sue Cepeda, Wife For Damages

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Baseball star Orlando Cepeda and his wife, Anna, were sued for $35,000 damages Friday over an automobile accident allegedly involving Mrs. Cepeda.

Albert G. Lithgow Jr., a felt salesman, charged that Mrs. Cepeda was driving a 1962 Cadillac which slammed into his compact here July 14, while Orlando was playing ball for the San Francisco Giants in Philadelphia.

Lithgow said he suffered "severe fright" and injuries to his back, neck, head, knees, ankles and feet.

The 31-year-old player, who stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 185, has been with the Giants since 1951.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mike DeJohn, ninth-ranked heavy-weight contender, and unranked Billy Daniels clash in a 10-round bout here at the Auditorium Saturday night that will also be televised nationally.

Juicy Bowl Plums, Ratings At Stake

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

National rankings and juicy bowl plums are the stake in three of the key college football games Saturday—and favored to grab the honors are Southern California, Louisiana State and Missouri.

Southern Cal plays Washington at Los Angeles, with the winner apparently headed for the Rose Bowl. The Sugar and Cotton Bowls are likely to scramble for the winner of the night game at Baton Rouge, La., between Louisiana State and Mississippi.

Missouri meets Nebraska at Lincoln, Neb., for a shot at the Orange Bowl.

Six unbeaten teams and four in the top ten of the Associated Press ratings are involved in these headliners which odds-makers figure will be close enough to be decided by a field goal.

Two of the games—at Los Angeles and Lincoln—will be on regional television (CBS-TV) while

Mountaineers Set For Slatington

"WE'RE SADLY, sadly in need of a victory," Stroud Union Coach Jerry Stulgaitis said last night on the eve of his team's departure to Slatington where the Mountaineers seek their second win of the season.

A loss today, Stulgaitis added, could "hurt us badly because we all feel this is one we can win."

The head coach also pointed out that there is a definite "moral factor" involved in this clash, indicating that if the Mountaineers should drop this tilt, it could be a crushing demoralizing blow to the entire squad.

One More Win

Stulgaitis, of course, would like to garner at least one more win before the East Stroudsburg battle on Thanksgiving Day in an effort to instill more spirit on the part of his lads for that important inter-borough meeting. The

Conference Clashes Highlight Activity

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

KEY conference clashes dot Saturday's football map with Los Angeles, Baton Rouge, La., and Lincoln, Neb., among the assorted stops marking the crossroads for a host of high-ranking major college teams marching toward post-season bowl berths.

Among the many eye-catching attractions are two games involving teams ranked in The Associated Press Top Ten and a Big Eight conference blue plate special.

Showdown Match

At Los Angeles, third-ranked Southern California meets invading Washington, No. 9, in a Big Six showdown that should match the Trojans' aerial strikes of Pete Beathard and Bill Nelson against the Huskies' ground forays, led by Charlie Mitchell.

At Baton Rouge, sixth-ranked

Mississippi and prize passer Glynn Griffing will tackle fourth-ranked Louisiana State and All-America halfback candidate Jerry Stovall in a Southeastern Conference meeting.

And at Lincoln, Big Eight co-leaders Nebraska and Missouri, both unbeaten and both knocking at the Top Ten door, come together for a test of strength in which the Cornhuskers' quarterback, Dennis Claridge, will be trying to dent the solid defense of once-tied Missouri.

On Television

The USC-Washington and Nebraska-Missouri games will be regionally televised as will the Navy-Notre Dame encounter at Philadelphia, where the four-times beaten Irish will have to remain awake against a potent Middles' offense sparked by sophomore quarterback Roger Staubach.

The weekend program gets underway tonight with two games—Richmond at George Washington and Kentucky at Miami, Fla.—then heads into a Saturday program that also features conference games for Northwestern and Alabama—currently ranked the nation's top two teams.

The Wildcats, leading the Big Ten race, tangle with conference foe Indiana in an effort to remain ahead of pursuing Purdue and Michigan State. Alabama is at Mississippi State for a SEC meeting, trying to stay in front of Mississippi, LSU and Auburn.

Rely On Myers

Michigan State, seventh-ranked, will rely on speedy George Saimers at Minnesota in a Big Ten game while Northwestern counts on the passing of Tommy (Gun) Myers against the Hoosiers. Purdue tries to keep pace against Illinois.

Auburn, whose stiff defense has contributed heavily to the Tigers' 10th ranked position is at Florida. In other games involving Top Ten members, No. 5 Texas plays Southern Methodist, and No. 8 Arkansas is at Texas A&M.

The Longhorns, who dropped out of the No. 1 spot last week when they were tied by Rice, will be looking to regain lost prestige in a Southwest Conference clash that will determine the league leader. SMU is out front at 2-0, Texas next at 2-0-1.

While Nebraska and Missouri battle for top honors in the Big Eight, resurgent Oklahoma, just a notch behind, will be at Colorado. Oregon State takes on Big Six co-leader Washington State, which is hoping to benefit from the USC-Washington tangle.

Southern California leading VMI is at the Citadel for a league encounter while runner-up West Virginia meets William and Mary, the third-place team. Atlantic Coast Conference pacesetter Maryland and Duke meet outside opponents, the Terrapins taking on Penn State and the Blue Devils facing Georgia Tech.

Dartmouth At Yale

Ivy leader Dartmouth is at Yale, Missouri Valley front-runner Tulsa is at Cincinnati and New Mexico's Western Athletic Conference pacesetter are at Brigham Young, Bowling Green, first in the Mid-American, meets non-conference West Texas State while runner-up Ohio U. faces league entry Marshall.

Ohio U. is one of the eight unbeaten and untied teams along with Alabama, Nebraska, Northwestern, Mississippi, Auburn, Dartmouth and Southern California.

In some of the top games involving the major independents, it'll be Army at Boston University, Wyoming at Air Force, Detroit at Villanova, Oregon vs. Stanford at Portland, Ore., and Houston at Florida State.

Kinder Wins PGA Tourney At Water Gap

SAM Kinder turned in the low pro score of 71 — five better than his nearest competitor — in the Pocono Mountain PGA tourney held this week at the Water Gap Country Club.

Three tied for second place with 75. They were Harold Dymond, H. Brackenburg and R. Schoener Sr. R. Smith had a 78, followed by Ted Bickel, Vic Yanovitch and Bob Schoener Jr., who all had scores of 81.

Two teams tied for top honors in the Pro-Am tourney. Bob Schoener Jr. and M. Capobianco banged out a score of 66, as did the team of Bob Schoener Sr. and H. Pietro.

They were closely followed by the teams of Sam Kinder and Walt Geaslin, and Dick Smith and J. Jewella, both with 67s.

Four teams had scores of 68: Sam Kinder and Don Abbott; Sam Kinder and Fred Swenson; Harold Dymond and L. Kirtland, and Bob Schoener Sr. and R. Cassey.

Bob Schoener Jr. and M. Palos finished with a 69.

Defense Key To Success

SELENSGROVE, Pa. (UPI) — Ask Coach Jim Garrett why his Susquehanna University football team is undefeated in 19 straight games and he'll tell you "defense" quicker'n you can say red dog.

Garrett makes no secret of the fact that he considers an air-tight defense the most indispensable attribute of a good football team.

"No team has managed to put together a single sustained drive against us in two years," he said. "The few times our opponents have scored, it's been on one explosive play."

Topped By 'Bama

The Crusaders' undefeated string is topped nationally only by Alabama's 23-game skein.

Susquehanna takes its streak to Ohio Saturday to meet Oberlin — the only team it hasn't beaten in the past two seasons. Last year's contest ended in a 7-7 tie.

Terming it a "prestige game," Garrett said a win against Oberlin "might silence some of those who have been skeptical about the validity of our success in the past three years."

The former New York Giant fullback again is looking to his defense to decide the Oberlin contest.

Praises Three

He singled out for praise the defensive play of Susquehanna's three starting linebackers — 210-pound John Rowlands of Wilkes-Barre, fullback Larry Kerstetter of Selinsgrove, and Tom Samuel, a 190-pound senior from Mt. Ephraim, N. J.

Garrett also had accolades for Larry Erdman, a 160-pound scabbard from Mahanoy Joint High School. Erdman this week was named small college sophomore of the week for his two-touchdown performance last Saturday in Susquehanna's 20-16 upset of powerful Trinity.

"All The Way"

"Erdman gives us something we've needed desperately for years — a man who can go all the way on one play at any time," Garrett said. "This threat strengthens our bread and butter off-tackle play."

Erdman has gained 532 yards in 80 tries this year, for an average of 6.6 yards per carry.

Captain John Lusko, a senior halfback whom Garrett describes as "our best runner," is not expected to see action Saturday. He has been sidelined with a leg injury for several weeks.

Bebjl Leads Pa. Colleges In Scoring

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jerry Bebjl, a hard-running back for Slippery Rock State College, leads the Pennsylvania college football scoring derby with 68 points as the season heads into its final three weeks.

Bebjl, a 5-foot, 11-inch senior who specializes in line smashing, has accounted for 8 touchdowns, 17 extra points and a field goal in Slippery Rocks' seven games thus far, an Associated Press scoring survey disclosed Friday.

The biggest day of the season for the secondary education major was against St. Vincent when he scored 3 TDs and five conversion points in a 58-0 Slippery Rock victory. His prolific scoring has helped Slippery Rock to a 6-1 record.

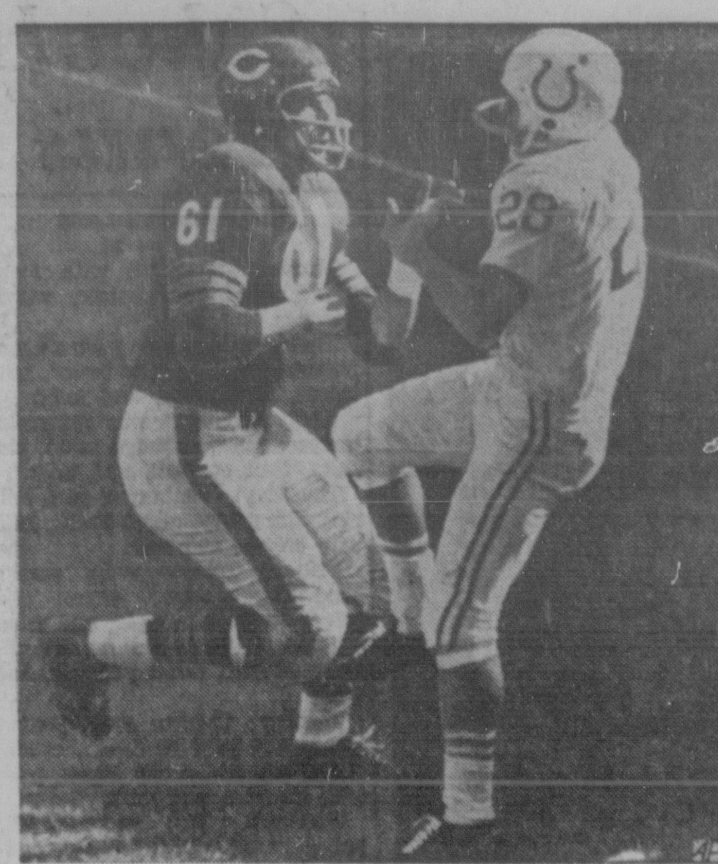

Barkman Second

Only six points behind the pacesetter is unbeaten and untied East Stroudsburg's Toby Barkman, who has scored 10 touchdowns and two conversion points in only six games. Barkman, who tallied 90 points in eight games last year, only to be edged for the scoring title by West Chester's Jim Pribula by a single point, three times this season has scored three TDs in a single game.

West Chester's All-State back, Joe Iacone, ranks third with 56 points on nine TDs and a pair of conversion points. These three, Bebjl, Barkman and Iacone, appear to be in a three-way battle for the points crown.

BEAVER Stadium, home of Penn State's football team, has a seating capacity of 46,000.

Coast-to-Coast NEWSPAPERS SELL THE MOST!

Lehigh Seeks To Snap Losing Skein

BETHLEHEM — Lehigh's football team will be trying to snap a two-game losing streak and pick up its first road victory of the season today, meeting Columbia at 1:30 p.m. on Baker Field, New York.

A duel between two triple-threat quarterbacks, one a veteran and the other a rookie, figures to highlight the contest. The veteran is Lehigh's Walt King (York), who has gained 430 yards passing and 80 rushing, about half of the team's offensive total, and has punted 25 times for a 29.5 average. The rookie is Columbia sophomore Archie Roberts (Holyoke, Mass.), a cool and gifted passer who leads the Ivy League in total offense and has done all of the Lion punting.

In an attempt to thwart the Columbia passing attack, Coach Mike Cooley will again have the team's eleven best ballplayers, "Cooley's Coolies," making up the defensive unit which first saw action last week.

"Some last-minute position changes bothered the boys against Rutgers," he said, "but another week of practice should help them considerably."

Lehigh's varied passing attack may also cause some trouble for the Columbia defense. No less than eight players were on the receiving end of King's aeriels against Rutgers, as he set a Lehigh record by completing 15 passes in the game. Overall, King has completed 48 tosses in 84 tries for 430 yards and a touchdown, and a percentage of .572.

The Engineers would dearly love to repeat last year's 14-7 victory over Columbia in New York, the first of four straight wins with which they closed out the campaign. That contest evened the series between the schools at three victories apiece.

Irish Explosion Against Navy?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Notre Dame, smarting from four straight defeats, and Navy's improving football team arrive here Friday for the 36th game of the nation's longest continuous intersectional rivalry.

A 10-point underdog, the Fighting Irish are hoping this is the week for their long awaited "explosion." Notre Dame leads the Navy series with 26 victories, eight defeats. There has been one tie.

Coach Joe Kuharich plans to give his team a workout Friday before the 38 man squad leaves South Bend, Ind., by plane for Philadelphia. The team will be quartered overnight at an inn across the river in Cherry Hill, N.J.

Dennis Murphy, senior right end, is the only listed Notre Dame casualty from last week's Northwestern game. He'll be replaced by Jim Kelly, the team's leading pass receiver with 17 catches for 238 yards and a touchdown. Daryle LaMonica, a senior quarterback, is expected to start along with backfield mates Ron Biley, Don Hogan and Bill Ahern. Biley is the leading ball carrier with 101 yards on 29 attempts.

Notre Dame (1-4) opened its season on a high note, defeating Oklahoma, 17-7, but since then it has been one frustrating Saturday after another against some of the nation's top teams. On successive weekends the Irish have lost to Purdue (24-6), Wisconsin (17-), Michigan State (31-7) and Northwestern (35-6).

Navy, ranked among the East's elite in preseason ratings, ran into a red hot Penn State team in its opener and was walloped (41-7). Since then, the Middles have won four of five, beating William & Mary (20-16), Cornell (41-0), Boston College (26-6), Pitt (32-9) and losing only to Minnes-

ESSC Shoots For Seventh Straight

EAST Stroudsburg State College's undefeated, untied Warriors today shoot for their seventh straight victory of the campaign at Cortland, N. Y., on their final leg of a three-game set on foreign soil.

At home or away, it makes little difference to Coach Jack Gregory's Warriors who this year are living in a Wonderful World of their own en route to an undefeated season and a Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference Crown.

Toughest Foes

The Thundering Herd has faced its stiffest competition on the road — with the likes of West Chester's Golden Rams, Mansfield and Millersville.

Today's battle is the final contest for the Upstate eleven which thus far has won three and lost three. Cortland, which dropped a 24-0 contest to the Warriors last year, could hardly have picked a tougher opponent in which to try for a better than .500 mark on the year.

Fears Letdown

Gregory, however, has shown some concern this week about his club looking toward next week's battle against Bloomsburg in their final conference clash of the campaign. He has been fearful of a letdown in this clash.

If there are any signs of the Warriors showing any pressure of their unbeaten status, they have thus far failed to show it. They have come through when the chips were down all season as they proved in trimming West Chester, 7-6, and later Mansfield, 12-6.

In both those games, oddly, it was not the heralded halfback star, Toby Barkman, who tallied the winning TD, but the hard-running fullback, Jan Bellevue.

Other Sparklers

In other words, when Barkman has been stopped, Gregory has other boys who can also churn up huge chunks of yardage and hit paydirt. Other backfield sparklers for the Warriors include Gary Willhide, Bill Lewis, and Don Villani.

Lewis, at quarterback, has not consistently found the range through the air this season, but his running so far has surprised even Gregory.

Barkman, meanwhile, has carried the leather across the goal line 10 times thus far while adding a conversion point for a total of 61 points — second only to Slippery Rock's Jerry Bebjl. Toby, who has played one less game than Bebjl, is only six points behind the Pennsylvania scoring leader and is high in the running to cop the scoring laurels this year.

The Warriors, also, are only one of two unbeaten teams in the state. The other is Susquehanna.

East Stroudsburg's strong running attack is strongly supported by the team's rugged defensive unit which have been a hallmark of Gregory's grid machines. They rank fifth in the nation in total defense, and third in the country in rushing defense where they have held opponents to less than 60 yards per game.

Cortland is a name in New York State. But for the Warriors of East Stroudsburg, it is more a number. Number seven, to be exact — the seventh straight victory of the season.

Carry Back After Win At Trenton

Jack Price's Carry Back seeks his second consecutive Trenton Handicap victory at Garden State Park Saturday and Meadow Stable's Cicada, leading candidate for the 3-year-old filly title, is an 8-5 choice to win the $150,000 Ladies Handicap at Aqueduct.

Carry Back will concede from nine to 22 pounds in the 21st running of the $75,000-added Trenton over the 1 1/4-mile distance. The famous stretch runner will carry high weight of 129 pounds, nine more than Montpelier's Mongo and 22 more than Mrs. Warner G. Morton's Hy-Nat.

Cicada will tote 122 pounds in the 92nd running of the Ladies Handicap. Shirley Jones, owned by Mrs. John Burgwin, is top-weighted at 125 pounds and the second choice at 2-1.

Carry Back, still in contention for horse-of-the-year honors, has won five times this year, which is to be his last season under silks. The 4-year-old scored important victories in the Whitney, Monmouth and Metropolitan Handicaps. In his last start he was fifth in Belmont Park's Man O' War Handicap.

Twelve are scheduled to start in the Trenton.

ABL Awards Pittsburgh Franchise

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The American Basketball League awarded the Pittsburgh franchise Friday to a group headed by fight promoter Bill Rosenzohn of Philadelphia.

The corporate name of the new group is General Sports, Inc., a subsidiary of General Bowling Corp., operator of bowling establishments in Pennsylvania, New York and Washington, D.C.

General Sports take over the franchise vacated by Lenny and Eugene Litman of Pittsburgh. The Litman brothers gave up the franchise after suffering financial losses last season.

In making the announcement of the new owners, league Commissioner Abe Saperstein, who also operates the Harlem Globetrotters, said the Litmans had "failed to fulfill the league requirements." Saperstein said the ABL will operate with six teams. Other teams are Kansas City, Philadelphia, Oakland, Long Beach and Chicago. The league will operate as one division.

BEST winning streak ever compiled by the Detroit Tigers was 14 straight games. They did it in 1909 and again in 1934.

GOP's Horn Labels Walter As 'The Promise Breaker'

CALLING his opponent "The Promise Breaker," Woodrow A. Horn, Republican Candidate for Congress, last night reviewed the Democrat promises of 1960 with their performance and asked, "Will the voters be taken in once again or will they recognize the need for new men with new ideas to overcome the national and international challenges facing our nation?"

Horn spoke at the Wilson Borough Republican Club and pointed out that two years ago his opponent pledged to reduce unemployment. "He hasn't," said Horn, "and the relief rolls are growing."

Walter pledged greater industrial production for this area. Does the shut down of six- or ten furnaces at steel sound like a fulfillment of that promise?

"What is the record of The Promise Breaker? He voted for your tax dollars to go to Communist Countries. He's permitted the Administration to pay the U. N. Debts of Cuba with your tax dollars; he's allowed the use of foreign aid funds to be used by other countries to buy arms from Russia; and he even permitted your taxes to be used by Russia to build a Russian hospital in Cambodia."

"The Walter vote on farm legislation has increased the price you pay for food; he's done nothing to stop the import of cheap foreign oil that deprives the miners of Pennsylvania of work; and he even voted to give Washington a second aquarium at the cost of $10,000,000."

"Is this the voting record of the man you want for your representative? Or do you want a man whose first obligation will be to the District he represents?"

"This is the choice the voters have," concluded Horn. "And if I am their choice they can be assured that I will never be known as 'The Promise Breaker.'"

A panel of foreign traffic experts will conduct the question and answer period following the movie. A short business meeting will follow.

Reservations can be made by contacting E. J. Danko at Utilities Service Company, Allentown, Penna., 434-9541.

Winnie Returns To Social Life

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, pale but smiling, was helped from his car into the Savoy Hotel yesterday to attend the meeting of an exclusive social club. It marked his return to public life after recovering from a hip fracture last summer.

Held by both elbows, Churchill walked slowly into the hotel and was whisked upwards in an elevator. There he climbed into a wheelchair and was wheeled 15 yards into the banquet room of The Other Club, a political dining club he helped found 51 years ago.

Most members are politicians, lawyers, distinguished retired soldiers and a few actors.

MIS-STATEMENT BY THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

He says he supports the $1.25 minimum wage.

FACT: A cheap deception. When Congress was recording the position of each member on the minimum wage, Scranton, despite his 1960 campaign pledges to support a $1.25 minimum wage, voted for the Kitchen-Ayres amendment which reduced the minimum to $1.15 and $1.00 for newly covered workers and took out of minimum wage coverage an estimated 4.3 million workers in a variety of occupations. This is documented in the Congressional Record. Let him argue with the accuracy of the Record.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked letters give you.

Dear Abby

Dear Abby: You're a great one sticking up for children who claim they are abused by clerks who wait on adults first. You even agree that some kids steal because "it's easier to walk out with something than to get a cashier to wait on them!"

Abby, have you ever seen some kids in a grocery store running down the aisle with carts, knocking over displays and bumping into customers? Their mothers sit in the car and half the time the kids get the wrong things, don't have enough money or they lose their change. If parents want to teach Junior how to handle money and shop, they should do it on their own time, and not during the rush hours.

BEAT CASHIER

GOOD MEMORY

DEAR ABBY: This is for merchants who forget that children one day grow up to be customers. I still live in the town where I grew up, and I make it a policy never to trade at the stores where I was pushed aside by the clerks while adults who came in after I did were waited on ahead of me. They say elephants never forget. A child's memory is sometimes better.

Divorcee, Man Shot To Death

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A divorcee and a father of four children were found yesterday shot to death in what police called a murder and suicide.

Virginia Rose Pizzi, 25, was shot twice through the head. Her body lay on a bed.

Joseph E. Swope, 24, a married man, was shot through the mouth. The bodies were found in the woman's second-floor apartment. Both were fully clothed.

Police said a .44 caliber revolver was found between Swope's legs, and apparently was the death weapon.

The pistol had been fired four times, police said, and one bullet went through the bed, and shattered ceiling plaster in the apartment below. The landlady's daughter noticed the plaster, found the bodies and called police.

Mrs. PUZZLED

DEAR MRS. PUZZLED: If you plan to have another baby, put the gifts away. Otherwise,

Dear Abby

Pros And Cons

take them back and do whatever you please with the money. I am sure your neighbors would not mind if you were to buy yourself a nice gift.

DEAR ABBY: If a husband dies shortly after a divorce, is the ex-wife considered a widow just as though there had been no divorce?

SATCH

DEAR SATCH: NO! A widow is considered a widow only when her HUSBAND has passed away.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Dutch Treat Told

People Seeking Something For Nothing Usually Gyped

By Bobby Westbrook

PEOPLE who try to get something for nothing are asking to be gyped, was the tenor of the talk given by Ralph Smith, free lance writer and author of several books on frauds practiced on the family pocketbook at Dutch Treat Club's dinner meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel Thursday night.

Smith, whose books include "The Health Hucksters," "The Bargain Hucksters" scheduled for release in January and "Grim Truth About Mutual Funds" later in the year, was employed by the National Better Business Bureau for a number of years.

His talk last night ranged through bargains, real and phony, bait advertising, guarantees and their limitations, medical quackery, and phony charitable appeals. Reputable merchants had almost licked the problem of phony bargains, he said, when national manufacturers starting issuing list prices far above their going prices in stores, which the consumer can check for himself if he wants to be sure he is really getting a bargain.

Bait advertising, using a ridiculous price for an item which the salesman has no intention of selling, is another common practice, he warned. Sewing machines and vacuum cleaners are the most common items. Any such cases should be reported to the Chamber of Commerce not only to protect the reputable merchants of the community but also less wary consumers, he said.

Five Prize Yearlings Are Sold

HARRISBURG (AP) — Five prize yearlings bred by the Hanover (Pa.) Farms were sold for between $40,000 and $55,000 Thursday as the four-day annual straw-bred horse sale closed on a record note.

A new standard was set for the final day's trading when 161 yearling trotters and pacers were sold for $1,238,350, an average of $7,691, surpassing last year's previous high of $6,544.

For four days of selling the average for 722 horses was $3,869 and replaced the record set in 1960 of $3,851. Total sales for four days were $2,793,250.

Two Hanover yearling fillies brought $40,000 each, equaling record prices for their sex. Kismet Hanover was bought by Allwood Stables, Far Hills, N. J., and Beauty Hanover was purchased by John Simpson, Orlando, Fla.

Cleo Young of Timmonsville, S. C., paid top price of the day, $55,000, for Baron Hanover.

Hanover consigned 117 yearlings to the sale and received $1,080,200, an average of $9,232. This fell short of the farm's record of $9,501 set in 1960.

Youth Killed In Car Crash

HARRISBURG (AP)—A 14-year old boy was killed and his twin brother and two sisters were injured yesterday in a violent crash that ripped their auto in half.

The dead boy and his 16-year-old sister were flipped over a bridge railing and fell 70 feet into Swatara Creek off Route 322 just west of Hummelstown.

Killed was Michael Vanasco of Hummelstown R. D. 1. Dr. Claude F. Light, deputy coroner, said he may have drowned.

His older sister, Margie, who was driving, suffered a possible skull fracture, and was listed in serious condition at Harrisburg Hospital.

Michael's twin, Martin, suffered a fractured jaw. The youngest child, Cynthia, 7, suffered only bruises.

Phone Co. Drops Toll Charge

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Commonwealth Telephone Co., Dallas, has been authorized to eliminate a 10-cent toll on calls between Nicholson and Factoryville in Wyoming County.

The Public Utility Commission, which announced the action Thursday, said the authorization is effective
